Country Laid Waste by Retreating
Slavs

By Associated Press.

London, July 22.—While prayers for victory were being said today throughout Russia, the Austrians and Germans continued their drive at Warsaw from the north and the west and south.

Meanwhile they were reaching further north toward Riga on the Baltic, from which their advance guard is not more than 20 miles.

The tone of dispatches from Petrograd bespeaks plainly that the country is aware of the graveness of the military situation, involving not only the fate of the Polish capital, but the integrity of the Russian army in Poland, the northern and southern sections of which might be cut in twain by a decisive defeat along the Lublin-Cholm railway.

It is along this section that the Russians are now fighting most desperately; for this railway is the sole great artery of communication of Poland with southern Russia, sweeping away from Lublin and Cholm towards Odessa.

Having several times been reported within five miles of the railway, and now, according to Austrian claims, having pierced the Teutonic front, this section of the Teutonic forces should be within rifle shot of the railway, but no claim has been made of having seized it.

Northwest of Lublin, however, the Teutonic forces have pushed forward to the bridge head positions south of Ivangorod, and thence northward. Around the circle which is tightening on Warsaw, they have made steady progress, though meeting with serious opposition along the Narew river, northwest of the capital.

Elsewhere, generally speaking, the Russians are falling back, employing the tactics with which they harassed Napoleon in 1812; that is, they are not only burning all bridges and destroying roads, but are laying waste the countryside with fire and dynamite, removing such provisions as they can; destroying such as they cannot take away; driving cattle and other live stock before them and leaving for the invaders a ruin and desolate waste.

All Courland has been laid waste, and Windau, in flames, sent up a glow visible many miles away.

The British public is hoping that Grand Duke Nicholas may stem the Austro-German tide, or at least extricate his armies and continue a further retreat.

Eliminating the stroke against Riga, the operations in Poland occupy a front of 800 miles, divisible into three principal areas; the first, along the Narew, north and west of Warsaw; the second, the center on the Vistula, between Warsaw and Ivangorod; the third, in the vicinity of Lublin where the Austrians and Germans are fighting for the railway.

The situation, as the British press sees it, is crucial. Coincident with dispatches from Russia, saying the spirit of the army is unbroken, and the belief in ultimate victory is strong, comes the report that the feeling is growing that Russia is doing more than her share in the war, bearing at present almost the entire burden.

Washington, July 22.—The American consul at Warsaw cabled the State Department today that the Belgian consul had left Warsaw and that the American consulate had taken charge of the affairs of both Belgium and Serbia there.

Petrograd, July 22.—In an order of the day issued in connection with the services of prayer which are being held throughout Russia today, Grand Duke Nicholas, the commander-in-chief, calls upon the troops to accomplish fresh deeds to achieve a victorious end of the great battle now raging.

TROOPS ARE CALLED TO DEAL WITH STRIKERS

By Associated Press.

New York, July 22.—Two dead and six seriously injured, one probably mortally, was the harvest reaped by rioters at the Standard Oil and Tidewater plants in Bayonne today, as the result of two attacks on the inside deputies guarding the properties.

Two fires also occurred, one in the Standard Oil plant where a watchman's house was virtually destroyed. The other in the yard of the Tidewater Oil Company, where staves and lumber were stored.

APPEALS TO OHIOANS FOR DONATIONS

Columbus, July 22.—Governor Willis today appealed to the people of Ohio for contributions of food, clothing or money, to be given for relief of destitute miners in the southern and eastern parts of the state.

He asked that these donations be sent directly to the adjutant general at Columbus. He will distribute them in communities where they are most needed.

"In the name of humanity, I appeal to the people of Ohio to give of their substance to aid in the alleviation of suffering," said the governor in a proclamation. He refers particularly to conditions in southern Ohio coal fields.

"The plain facts are, that for many months the mines have been closed, or running only part time. Want and hunger stalk through a section of our state once busy with industry before paralyzed by business depression. Thousands of families are actually in want. Women and children are hungry; men, who ask not charity, are anxious for an opportunity to work."

This last fire was started by means of burning waste, thrown over the walls by rioters. It was speedily checked, with a trifling loss.

The two men killed were foreigners. Both were shot through the heart by Winchester rifle bullets, apparently fired by the guards. The men were killed in an attack on the barrel works of the Tidewater plant, which began at 11:40 a. m. and lasted for half an hour. A sudden downpour of rain had much to do with stopping this fight.

It was announced that the sheriff had asked for troops, and companies from Newark and Redbank were expected on the scene as soon as all preparations had been made for such a call. The sheriff called the governor direct by telephone.

Before calling for troops, the sheriff rushed up to the rioters when the melee was at its height and commanded the men to desist. He was greeted with jeers and left the scene.

New York, July 22.—Three men were shot in the street fight which developed early today near the works of the Standard Oil Company at Bayonne, N. J., where several thousand workers have been on strike for higher wages for several days.

The three wounded men are foreigners. After several shots had been fired by the strikers and guards the crowd withdrew.

Sheriff Kinkead asked the Department of Labor at Washington for mediators to try to end the trouble. Two men will be sent by the department. The sheriff said he hoped it would not be necessary to call out state troops.

Scores of strikers and others gathered at the works of the Standard Oil Company this morning. Inside the yard a small fire broke out, but was quickly extinguished.

Strikers say trouble started when one man was shot while walking near the company's works. The crowd, led by John Surgen, a former Austrian soldier, charged up the bank to attack the company's guards. Surgen fell at the first fire.

The crowd pressed on and a 16-year-old boy was wounded. The crowd then fell back and withdrew.

The sheriff said that should it be necessary to call the troops, they would be in readiness to move immediately.

NOTE IS NOW ON WAY TO GERMANY

American Rejoinder Clears Wires
at Washington Last Night
and Will Be Made Public Friday Evening—Future Conduct of Germany to Determine Action of United States.

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—The new American note to Germany is now on its way to Berlin. It was cleared from Washington over the telegraph wires during the night, and today was being flashed over the cables to London and thence to Copenhagen, where it goes over the land wires again to the German Foreign Office. It should reach its destination tonight or early tomorrow.

Secretary Lansing announced that the text of the note would be given out here Friday afternoon for publication in morning papers of Saturday. Then will follow a period of waiting until a reply is received.

Concerning future conduct of German submarines, the note does not necessarily call for an answer, as it announces the intention of the United States to regard any further violation of international law resulting in the loss of American lives as unfriendly.

On the other hand, the American demands for disavowal of any intention to sink the Lusitania and the request for reparation were renewed in the new note, and very likely those, with other points such as the willingness of the United States to act as an intermediary between the belligerents to adjust the rules of maritime warfare, probably will be the basis for further discussion by Germany.

Washington, July 22.—It is generally agreed among officials here, however, that any loss of American lives in the meantime would, in itself, raise the question of action, irrespective of any formal reply from Germany.

What action would be taken by the United States in the event of further violation of American rights is not disclosed, but a general understanding prevails that another disaster such as befell the Lusitania would mean the immediate assembling of Congress.

President Wilson has given careful consideration to eventualities to which the new American note may commit the United States, and he believes it places squarely on Germany responsibility for any action that may cause rupture.

EXPRESS BARONS ARE FAVORED BY A NEW DECISION

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—The Interstate Commerce Commission decided today that the revenues of the principal express companies of the United States are inadequate, and modified its former order to provide additional income.

The effect will be to increase the collection and delivery allowance for each shipment and to reduce the terminal allowance. On shipments of more than 100 pounds, the readjustment will not make any change. The companies are expected to increase their gross revenue 3.86 per cent.

MR. ASQUITH DODGES QUERY

London, July 22.—Premier Asquith was again pressed in the house of commons to restate the objects for which Great Britain is fighting. He declined, however, to be drawn out on this subject, merely saying in reply to his questioner, Sir William Byles, Liberal: "I stated these objects with as much definiteness as I am capable of at the beginning of the war and at the Guild hall, and I am unable to add anything to those statements." Sir William Byles expressed the opinion that if the public knew a little more definitely what the country is at war about, the objects might be attained through less warlike measures.

San Francisco, July 22.—Before a crowd of 50,000 people, gathered at the exposition grounds, Theodore Roosevelt expounded his views on war and peace. The colonel was given an ovation.

Mr. Roosevelt held both willingness and ability to be soldiers to be desirable attributes of good citizens. He told the enlisted men "a man afraid to fight is not fit to vote," and "a mother who is not willing to raise her boy to be a soldier is not fit for citizenship." The speaker emphatically declared for preparedness for war and attacked the arbitration treaties.

WARSAW'S FATE IS IN BALANCE

Series of Battles to North, South and West of the City.

RUSS FIGHTING DESPERATELY

Three Fierce Counter Attacks Delivered From Russian Fortresses Reported Repulsed—Muscovites Suffer Reverse West of Warsaw and Retreat Toward the Vistula—Germans Within Striking Distance of Riga.

London, July 22.—Dispatches from the east state that a series of great battles, the result of which will seal the fate of Warsaw, is being fought to the north, west and south of that city. Having successfully retired to positions on the rivers and well flanked by fortresses, the Russians have turned and are fighting desperately to stem the Austro-German onslaughts. To the north, on the river Narew, they delivered three fierce counter attacks from the fortresses of Rosan, Pultusk and Novo Georgievsk. The Germans, who had taken one outwork of Rosan, repulsed these counter attacks, according to the official report received from Berlin, but apparently have been unable to make any further progress southward.

Immediately to the west of Warsaw, on what is known as the Blonie-Grojec line, the Russians have suffered a reverse and are retreating toward the Vistula. Farther south, the army of General Von Woyrsch is making progress toward the same river, which has been reached at one point.

To the south of Ivanograd Field Marshal Von Mackensen, who is directing the offensive between the Vistula and the Bug, has reached the Russian lines, and here the greatest of all the battles is being fought—for the possession of the Lublin-Cholm railway.

Teutons Seem Confident.

On the resistance the Russians are able to offer along this front, where the Austro-Germans are making their biggest effort, probably depends the success or failure of the Austro-German operations. Apparently the Austro-Germans feel pretty certain of the outcome, for it is said that Emperor William, who is at Posen, has sent for the empress in order to make a state entry into the Polish capital when it falls.

Things are moving a little more quickly in Courland, where the Germans claim to have met with successes all along the line, bringing them within striking distance of Riga and the roads which supply that town from the south.

There is another battle in progress along the borders of Bessarabia, but how this is going the official communications do not say.

The French have made another bid for the valley of the Fecht, in the Vosges. They have delivered several attacks which have been partially successful and have captured the heights dominating that valley from the east.

The Italian offensive on the Isonzo continues and Rome reports further progress, particularly on the Carso plateau.

MEN ARE IN UGLY MOOD

New York, July 22.—Homicide, rioting and arson were combined in the kaleidoscopic events that marked the strike of the employees of the Constable Hook plant in Bayonne of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. One striker was killed and twenty-five men, including strikers, private detectives and policemen, were injured in the rioting.

As a climax of the dramatic events of the day four fires were started on property owned by the oil company and within an hour those fires, having all united in one big blaze, were threatening the big Standard Oil plant with its 400 tanks of oil. The fire department with difficulty subdued the flames.

The spirit of the strikers and of their sympathizers is extremely ugly. When it was reported that the state militia might be called out, the strikers openly announced that wholesale bloodshed would follow.

FIRES WERE NOT WORK OF SPIES

New York, July 22.—An investigation by Rear Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, commandant of the navy yard in Brooklyn, of small fires which occurred aboard the superdreadnaught New York and the destroyer Warrington, disclosed that the fires were such as commonly occur; were trivial in character, and could not possibly have been caused by persons intent upon injuring United States war vessels.

STRIKE IN NAVY YARDS FEARED

Washington, July 22.—Threats were made by local labor leaders that skilled mechanics employed in the Washington navy yard might go on strike if President Wilson failed to direct Secretary Daniels to restore the wage scale that prevailed in the year prior to July 1. The suggestion was made further that if the men walked out, sympathetic strikes might be declared in other navy yards.

STORY FAILS TO IMPRESS THE GOVERNOR

Whitman Says It Fails to Throw Light on Rosenthal Murder.

NOT LIKELY TO STAY EXECUTION

New York Governor Dismisses Whatever Ray of Hope Attorneys For the Condemned Man Saw in the Statement Submitted to the Executive—Pointed Comment Made on Becker's Communication.

Albany, N. Y., July 22.—"There is absolutely nothing at all to throw any light upon the murder of Herman Rosenthal in Becker's statement. In fact it goes to corroborate the testimony of Rose that Becker, a uniformed police lieutenant, was urging him to keep quiet. Becker says Alfred Henry Lewis had told him that he was being framed up. Becker should have called Mr. Lewis. He would have made a material witness for the defense."

Governor Whitman thus dispelled whatever ray of hope counsel for Charles Becker saw in the statement submitted to the executive. The governor's comment on Becker's statement indicated that he has no intention of interfering with fulfillment of the order of execution upon anything that Becker has so far said.

The governor regards the statement as a senseless corroboration of Rose's testimony that Becker, at the time of the murder, kept sending to Rose an injunction against saying anything. That these requests for silence on the part of Rose were designed to protect the good reputation of Tim Sullivan, as Becker explained them, did not impress the executive. The fact that the only new points in the statement, new to the governor, the one relating to Tim Sullivan, the other to Alfred Henry Lewis, concern dead men, further operates to shake the governor's credence in what Becker has put on paper. Testimony such as Becker claims Lewis would have been able to give would have a strong bearing on the outcome of the first Becker trial or the second in the mind of Governor Whitman. The fact that it is brought to light now that Lewis had advised Becker that he was being framed, a long time after Lewis' death, does not lend to the strength of Becker's plea, the governor holds.

That part of the statement which sought to explain that the conference held by Sullivan, Becker and Rose on the Sunday night preceding the murder of Rosenthal has been known to Governor Whitman for a long time. Accordingly, it is not believed it will have any effect upon him, even though Becker declares that the purpose of the conference was to devise some way of spiriting Rosenthal out of town in order to close his mouth before the grand jury.

If Governor Whitman fails to take any favorable action in Becker's behalf, it is certain that an application for a new trial will be made before the supreme court within a day or two.

Becker's lengthy statement had the effect of smoking out Harry M. Apfelbaum, for years secretary to former Congressman T. D. Sullivan, and now an attorney.

Apfelbaum said that Big Tim at that time was afraid that his relations with Rosenthal would be misunderstood (he had lent Rosenthal $9,500 and if this became known he was afraid the people would think he was Rosenthal's partner), and he said that it would be a good thing to have Rosenthal go away until the turmoil stirred by Rosenthal had settled.

Becker opposed this solution strongly, saying that if Rosenthal went away people would think that he, Becker, was responsible for it, and it would look very bad for Becker.

STRIKE MAY BE CALLED OFF

Bridgeport, Conn., July 22.—It is expected that the Bridgeport labor war for an eight-hour day on all ammunition work being done under Remington contracts will be settled peacefully by Monday. The big strike throughout the city got under way with several clashes between the police and the strikers, but J. J. Keppler, international vice president of the machinists, left for New York asserting that his men would probably be back to work next week. Following the policy of Major Penfield in the new Remington plant, officials of the old Remington Metallic Cartridge company posted a notice, based on a vote of the machinists and tool makers, granting them approximately a 20 per cent increase in salary for an eight-hour day. Other plants are making similar efforts to grant the demands of the workers without a tieup.

Move to Retire Gompers

Reports to the effect that there is a well organized and determined movement in the American Federation of Labor organization to retire President Samuel Gompers to the ranks, are persistent and seem to have some basis in fact.

Disinterested folks have long since determined that if Gompers ever was any real aid to the cause of organized labor, he has outlived his usefulness and that the cause of labor would be very much enhanced in public esteem by his retirement.

Gompers has devoted by far the major portion of his time and thought to matters political, claiming the ability to deliver the labor vote to one or the other of the political parties. He has obtained much unpleasant notoriety on account of his political activities and has generally lined up with the interests opposed to the cause of labor.

His identification with the cause of labor has been a real handicap during the last decade and his services have been such as to add to rather than lessen that handicap.

The attempt of Gompers to discourage the efforts of those who would organize and promote labor's National Peace Conference has brought him his latest unpopularity and has caused those opposed to his intention as head of organized labor, to inaugurate a move to get rid of him.

His opposition to the proposal of labor, which must bear the burden of war, in its move for peace in its entire harmony with his record and it is quite likely that labor will refuse to overlook his latest "break."

Japan Claims a "Billy Sunday."

Japan claims to have a "Billy Sunday," whose sobriquet was gained by his supposed similarity in methods to those of the American evangelist.

His real name is Mr. Kimura and his work is the outcome of having been brought under the personal influence of the famous Mr. Sunday. Visiting in the United States he attended over fifty meetings held by Mr. Sunday and gives out the statement that he was "moved to tears six times in one hour on hearing him; the first time in twenty-five years that I had such an experience."

He seems to have patterned after the American exhorter to some purpose in Tokio and other Japanese cities for he makes the assertion that nobody goes to sleep during his preaching, and that is a claim proof positive of his hold upon his audience.

According to the story a Tokio correspondent concerning the meetings of Japan's Billy Sunday, "the picture was much the same as at American revivalists' meetings, with the added interest of the rich-colored flowing Kimono, the black hair of the Japanese women, the occasional clatter of the wooden shoe, and the many-hued Japanese decorations."

Mr. Kimura has already achieved such recognition that every week for the next year and a half is filled with engagements.

Poetry For Today

DEAR MEMORIES.

Dear memories were fair to build her shrine
 Than sculptured monument from master hands,
 A temple mine, in which each tender line
 Is but the flowering of her love.
 Here stands
 In pointed spire her spirit fine and pure
 On arch whose key is held by truth serene,
 A lovely edifice. Her faith so sure,
 Inspired with trust of Him who rules unseen,
 Had laid the corner stone; and all the grace
 Of her dear thought, her rare unselfishness
 Had mothered it with sense that seemed divine,
 As when God's spirit gently touched the face
 Of some dear saint, whom we have come to bless,
 With inner light. Such light, dear one, was thine.

It never happens in the novels. But in real life the hero often gets a good trimming.

ARABIAN HORSES.

Ancient Stories of Their Care and Training Are Mere Fables.

So far as we know, the Arabian breeders have no patented system of training their horses different from those prevailing among peoples of a similar degree of civilization. Naturally the lack of pasture results in young Arabian horses being fed a considerable quantity of barley and, so the story goes at least, a not inconsiderable quantity of the fruit of the date palm, fresh and dried, by way of succulence.

The colts are broken, usually bare-backed, at two or three years old. Their subsequent handling is much like that of all other horses, with perhaps the difference that as early in life as possible the young animals are accustomed to doing without water for increasing periods of time in order to accustom them later on to the scarcity of liquids in desert journeys.

The ancient stories about the Arab steed being kissed and bawled over by the sheik's whole family, kept in the living tent and fanned on the best silk rugs are picturesque fables containing about the same measure of truth as the one which dates the pedigrees of Arabian horses back to the mares owned in Biblical times by King Solomon.—Breeder's Gazette.

Mr. Wise Guy.

Mr. Wise Guy sat beside the road watching his chauffeur doctor a puncture. Presently a farmer, leading a youthful calf, passed.

"Where'd you get the calf, Rube?" Mr. Wise Guy inquired impudently.

"Set a hen on a bottle of milk," was the reply.

And Mr. Wise Guy was mean enough to threaten to fire the chauffeur for laughing.—Indianapolis News.

Progress Does Not Consist in Accumulating Riches, but Wise Use of Knowledge

By Professor GUGLIELMO FERRERO, Italian Historian

WE can say the world is progressing when we compare our epoch with ancient Greece, because we enjoy the Grecian art and literature, we know their philosophy, we have kept some political sentiments and principles as patriotism, but we know as well the principles of other arts unknown to the Greeks—the medieval architecture and Japanese sculpture, for example; we also know the philosophy that came after them; we feel the VIRTUE CREATED BY CHRISTIANITY, THE LOVE OF OUR NEIGHBOR, CHARITY, THE CHASTITY OF LOVE.

Progress does not consist in accumulating riches, in the power or the knowledge of man, but in the high, noble, sacred use of this new knowledge, of this new power and of these new riches. The ancient civilizations excelled in curbing man's energy in such a way as to keep him from committing too great acts of danger and folly, but at the same time they held in check the power to create good things and take initiative.

Modern civilization has been able to excite man's energy, freeing it from many checks, so that it could create prodigious things, but among the chains cast away are those that served to hold man back from supreme folly.

SO IT IS CLEAR THAT OUR CIVILIZATION WILL TOUCH THE HEIGHT OF GLORY AND PERFECTION THE DAY WHEN, COMBINING THE NEW AND FORMIDABLE INSTRUMENTS IT HAS CREATED WITH SOME OF THE ANCIENT PRINCIPLES OF WISDOM, IT SUCCEEDS IN DIRECTING THE TREMENDOUS ENERGY OF OUR TIMES ONLY TOWARD THE ENDS RECOGNIZED AS USEFUL AND WORTHY.

PATRONS ALL EAGER FOR CHAUTAUQUA NEXT YEAR

Bell Ringers and Dr. Fisher Prove Popular With Large Audiences Wednesday, and Impersonator and Talented Musicians Give Delightful Program Today, With Another Promised Tonight—Two of Best Numbers Tomorrow.

When the large audience left the Chautauqua tent Wednesday night there were few persons but what carried in their hearts a greater love for their country and who realized as never before the magnitude, the power, and the wonders carried by the United States. And it was due to the intensely interesting illustrated lecture given by Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher on "America Before the World."

The manner in which he developed his subject and illustrated it appealed to his auditors, and close attention was given to the words of the speaker and the large number of

illustrations which depicted many of the country's greatest wonders.

In the afternoon Dr. Fisher had delivered a message that made a profound impression, speaking upon "One Blood." He explained the barriers which have kept man from being brotherly, showing that the only way to peace was by love and charity to all mankind. One significant thought stated by Dr. Fisher was: "Money, religion, everything that should unite us, divides us from being one blood. Race prejudice is another barrier."

Ralph Dunbar's five singing bell ringers proved one of the most popular attractions of the chautauqua, and time after time the entertainers were recalled by the delighted audience. While their specialties proved popular, it was their splendid work on the magnificent peal of bells that really appealed to the big audiences. The Dunbar bell ringers can return to Washington any time and will be met with rounds of applause.

As predicted by Supt. Bingham, the Ribbeldaffer-Skibinsky Company of musicians scored a tremendous success Thursday afternoon, and tonight another big audience is expected to hear the talented musicians, in a great concert which is expected to appeal to every lover of really good music.

Albert H. Johnstone, who had been on the program for tonight, was changed to the afternoon in order that business and professional men might hear Dr. D. Whitefield Ray in his lecture on "Through Five Republics on Horseback." Mr. Johnstone delighted the afternoon audience with his extremely clever impersonations and acting.

Tomorrow, Last Day. The L. A. C. Women's Orchestra will furnish the afternoon concert tomorrow, the last day of the chautauqua, and Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, who won considerable notoriety on the famous "Senate Investigation Committee," will deliver his highly interesting lecture on "Political Tendencies."

Both the musical company and Senator Kenyon are worthy of the large audiences which have yet attended the chautauqua.

At the close of the Wednesday night's musical program, pledge cards were passed among the audience, and a large number of tickets for next year's chautauqua were promised. A rising vote on whether or not a chautauqua should be held next year, brought virtually every person in the tent to their feet.

The chautauqua this season has been a splendid one and it is the intention of the committee to surpass the attractions next year.

WHEAT CONDITION GRADUALLY IMPROVES

The condition of wheat received at the local elevators, while most of it is still damp, is improving steadily but requires close attention on the part of the grain dealers to prevent damage by heat or mould.

Threshing is general throughout the county and during favorable weather the wheat pours in rapidly. Yields reaching as high as 31 bushels to the acre have been reported. The yield runs from a very few bushels up to 22 bushels per acre, usually, and larger yields are extremely unusual this year.

One man reports a field of 80 acres with a yield of only 360 bushels.

FREIGHT CONDUCTOR 'FALLS UNDER TRAIN'

B. & O. freight conductor, Willis, of Blanchester, had a very narrow escape from being ground to pieces under a freight train in this city Wednesday, when he slipped and fell beneath a box car.

Conductor Willis fell headlong between the rails and one pair of trucks passed over him before the train was halted. By flattening himself to the ties Willis was able to prevent himself being crushed to death. One arm and one leg were bruised, but otherwise he suffered no injuries. The nervous shock to the man was severe.

WORK MEETS WITH GENERAL APPROVAL

The repairing of the paving on Court street is meeting with general approval and it is expected that within the next few days when the work is entirely finished, that Court street will be in better condition than for several years.

The number of sink-holes in the street was surprisingly large, but a gang of men under direction of Service Director Gerstner have been removing the old brick where repairs were urgently in demand, and replacing the brick with a better quality, laid on a concrete foundation, insuring the surface retaining its proper grade.

TO REFRESH AUTO BOOSTERS

Dutch Treat Club to Extend Hospitality to Visitors Committee on Fall Festival Not Ready to Report at Thursday's Meeting.

At the noon dinner meeting of the Dutch Treat Club Thursday, a committee was appointed to communicate with the Ohio State Journal automobile boosters, who are to pass through here Tuesday afternoon, and to inform the latter that the local club will arrange to have refreshments for them on their arrival in Washington in case they expect to stop here for any length of time.

The committee is comprised of Messrs Ed Fite, Walter Craig, W. A. Tharp and Clarence Baer.

The committee appointed a week ago to consider the advisability of a fall festival in Washington, for this coming autumn, was not quite ready to make an official report and was granted an extension of time.

CARELESS OWNERS HAVE TO FORK OVER

Within the past month the police have picked up six horses and five cows and lodged them in livery barns, from which owners have had to pay one dollar and livery rent, in each case, to recover them.

The action of the police is the result of complaints from residents of neighborhoods in the streets on which the animals have been turned loose to graze, with a damage to gardens as a consequence.

From Oak and Gregg streets and the new Avondale additions the animals have been picked up.

AUTOISTS REMINDED OF "DIMMER" ORDER

Chief of Police Moore wishes to remind autoists of the "dimmer" ordinance, which is to go into effect Friday. The chief wants everyone to be prepared to observe this order as soon as it becomes effective.

Under the ordinance, which was passed at the last meeting of council, "dimmers" on automobile headlights must be employed within the city limits. These lights must not be of more than 16 candle power strength.

AUTOMOBILES WILL BE PARKED ON MAIN STREET

Mayor Coffey Thursday received a letter from Sport Editor Bob Read of the Ohio State Journal, inquiring as to what parking space will be available here for the Journal's booster party when it arrives next Tuesday afternoon.

In answering the mayor stated that he would try and give the party a block or two on Main street and, if possible, a portion of Court. The boosters will arrive here about 4:30 and will leave at 5:30 o'clock.

The Fate of the Onaida.

One of the most extraordinary catastrophes that have befallen vessels of the United States destroyed the sloop of war Onaida in 1869. She was bound homeward with a jolly ship's company eager to see wives and sweethearts and native land once more, when not far out of port she was struck by the British steamer Bombay coming in. The stem of the Bombay cut off the stern of the Onaida. The ship was sinking rapidly, and guns of distress were immediately fired, but the Bombay steamed on her way and left the vessel to her doom. She went down, and all but one or two of her crew were drowned. The captain of the Bombay gave no other reason for his conduct than that he had Lady Eyre, the wife of a distinguished British satrap, on board and did not wish to disturb her nerves with scenes of shipwreck. He was mobbed when he reached Yokohama, dismissed from the service, socially tabooed from that time on and died in disgrace a year or two later.

The Obstacles to Evil.

In the constitution of our nature a limit has been fixed to the triumph of evil. Falsity in theory is everywhere confronted by the facts which present themselves to every man's observation. A lie has no power to change the ordinances of God. Every day discloses its utter worthlessness until it fades away from our recollection and is numbered among the things that were. The indissoluble connection which our Creator has established between vice and misery tends also continually to arrest the progress of evil and to render odious whatever would render evil attractive.—Francis Wayland.

Frigga.

Frigga, from whom Friday is derived, was either a god or a goddess, according to time and country. As a man he was a great hunter and warrior, always represented with a drawn sword in one hand and a bow in the other. In the Scandinavian countries Frigga was called the "Venus of the North," and the sixth day of the week was consecrated to her worship.—London Mail.

There are still in this country settled districts remote from the reach of the telegraph. People so situated, even if the gap is only fifty miles, can imagine what the situation was before the coming of the "wire." After its general introduction gaps of hundreds of miles were common. But the greatest gap was between Europe and America. Fifty years ago this time Field was trying to bridge that gap with his cable. Starting from the other end, news of progress was wired back to Ireland, then came to America by steamer. Finally, when the western world was all expectation, messages ceased, and anxiety lasted for weeks. Then news came that the cable had parted in midocean over three weeks before. For another year Europe was ten days away from us.

That machine tiller of the soil which Mr. Ford promises will be as great a boon as the revolutionary cotton gin and spinning machine. If the pushing and pulling which the farmer has to do somehow could be simplified 50 per cent it would bring farming "within reach of the poor."

MANY WILL GO TO GREENFIELD NEXT SUNDAY

A union choir of 60 voices, from the Greenfield churches, will lead the singing at the big meeting of the Bible Classes at Greenfield chautauqua grounds Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and a large number of persons from this city will attend.

Automobiles leaving this city will assemble in front of the court house square at one o'clock Sunday afternoon, and form in line for the trip to Greenfield. Indications are that the Bible class in the city will be well represented. Hon. C. A. Reid will be among the speakers, and Mr. James Kneelsley will aid in the musical side of the program.

Others taking part in the program include Judge Bitzer, of Chillicothe; Mr. Smith, of Leesburg; John P. Phillips, of Chillicothe and well known speakers and musicians from Hillsboro, Bainbridge and other towns.

The Greenfield churches are making extensive arrangements for the meeting, and a telephone communication from one of the committees Thursday afternoon stated that a very large number of all classes included had signified their intention of being present, either in a body or as many as possible from each class.

In this city quite a number of automobiles have been promised during the past 48 hours, and indications are that a large delegation will make the trip.

Owners of cars, who will offer their services, are urged to communicate the fact to the pastors of their respective churches without further delay.

In Social Circles

An event of unusual pleasure took place Wednesday afternoon in Yellow Springs when Misses Katherine Stevenson and Dorothy Davis, entertained a number of friends at a delightfully arranged party at the home of Miss Stevenson, and announcement was made of the engagement of the two charming young ladies. Announcement of the engagement of Miss Davis and Lehr Fess, the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Fess, will come as a pleasant surprise to their hosts of friends throughout the county. The engagement of Miss Stevenson to Dr. Russell Johnson Collins, of Coneaut, O., has been known to the intimate friends of the young couple for some time but had never been formally announced until the affair Tuesday afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Davis and Lehr Fess will be celebrated in August.—Xenia Republican.

OLD DEEDS ARE IN POSSESSION OF LOCAL WOMAN

Mrs. E. J. Nau, of East Temple street, is in possession of two valued souvenirs of the early days in the United States, in the shape of deeds made out to some of her ancestors, one of the instruments bearing date of 1757 and being 158 years old.

Both deeds are yellowed by age, but virtually all of the inscription is almost as clear as the day it was written by hands which more than a hundred years ago had returned to the dust.

The deed issued in 1757 was for 100 acres of land in Chester county, Pennsylvania, and was issued under the reign of Lord George the second. The other deed was issued in 1789, or 126 years ago, and conveys 74 3/4 acres in the state of Maryland. It has a peculiar seal attached, and the inscription, like that on the first mentioned instrument, is intensely interesting.

Both manuscripts are sheepskin and in a remarkably good state of preservation.

FRANKFORT STILL GETS USUAL MAILS

The order by the Postoffice Department to discontinue the messenger service from Roxabel to Frankfort postoffice has been suspended, pending subsequent investigation by the Department of Inspection.

It is now up to the local citizens of Frankfort to make plain to the post-office authorities that the stopping of the mail service from the Roxabel postoffice on the B. & O. S. W. R. R. will impair the business interests of that community and that "just as good mail service" can be had from the C. H. & D. R. R.

Both of these points of business interest to Frankfort should be easy to demonstrate to the Postoffice Department.—Chillicothe Gazette.

BIG CONTRACTS LET BY B. & O.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has just placed contracts for equipment which will cost approximately $2,500,000. The order calls for 2000 steel hopper cars and fifty cars for passenger service, and immediate delivery is stipulated in the contracts. The hopper cars will be equipped with longitudinal doors and modern apparatus for complete and quick unloading. They will be built by the American Car and Foundry Company, East St. Louis, Ill. The Pressed Steel Car Company, Pittsburgh and the Cambria Steel Company, Johnstown, Pa. The order for passenger cars was placed with the Pullman Company, Chicago, and included thirty-five coaches, five combination passenger and baggage cars, two baggage and mail cars, four baggage cars, two Cafe Parlor cars and two Cafe coaches.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The modern business college is an institution which has been helping wonderfully in preparing young people for busy lives, and many a young man of today largely owes this institution for a great measure of his success.

Prominent among colleges of this class is the Bliss Business College, of Columbus, founded about fifteen years ago, and which today can exhibit proudly a long list of names of young persons trained along business lines and established in promising and paying positions. Young persons "on the fence" as to their future course can well afford to embrace the opportunity offered at Bliss College to secure a thorough business training and thereby lay the foundation for the success which comes to the man who "knows."

"STRICK" ON JOB

A few days ago an invitation was extended to Strickland Gilliland to be the guest of certain friends in Jackson county, and in wiring his acceptance the humorist, evidently remembering that "brevity is the soul of wit, sent this message: "Sure. Strick."

MATTER OF COTTON IS BIG ISSUE

Administration Concerned About England's Proposed Action.

Washington, July 22.—The growing agitation in England in favor of placing cotton on the British contraband list is attracting serious attention here. In spite of the fact that the British government last fall declared its intention not to make cotton contraband and the fact that it is known to be still unwilling to take this action, it is believed to be within the range of possibility that it will feel compelled to yield to the strong pressure being brought to bear upon it at home.

The cotton question is being called up anew by men representing southern interests, who are pointing out that while the world cotton market outside of Germany and Austria is now overstocked to the extent of nearly 3,000,000 bales, there is already in sight another large crop in this country. The desire of the cotton interests is of course for the United States government to secure access to the German and Austrian markets, which it is declared would just about take up the surplus from last year's crop.

All that the United States is now contending for in the cotton issue is the right of Americans to ship cotton to neutral countries without interference. It has refused to recognize the right of the British authorities to seize cargoes of cotton consigned to neutrals on the ground that they were ultimately destined for Germany or Austria. That the British are paying for cotton thus seized does not alter the position of the United States on the principle involved.

Should Great Britain declare cotton contraband and should the United States accomplish such a declaration as to cotton, the situation would be much less satisfactory from the point of view of both the cotton shippers and the state department. Cotton suspected of ultimate destination to Germany could then be seized and confiscated without compensation.

A beggar boy asked an old gentleman in the street for sixpence.

"What will you do with it if I give you one?" asked the old gentleman.

"Turn it into ninepence quick," replied the boy.

"How?"

"Give me the sixpence and I'll soon show you."

The boy got the money, darted off to a baker's shop and bought a three penny loaf, with which he returned to the old gentleman and handed him back 3 pennies.

"How's this? You said you would make the sixpence into ninepence."

"So I have. The baker's got three-pence, you've got three-pence, and I've got a three penny loaf. That's ninepence."—Pearson's Weekly.

Blind and Gag Victims and Escape With Rich Booty.

Bloomfield, N. J., July 22.—"For God's sake send the police." These were the words shouted from the roof of the Bloomfield Savings Institution by Frank Nochtstuhl, a bookkeeper at the institution. Then it was revealed that two thieves in broad daylight had entered the building and, after holding up Alexander Dahl, the assistant cashier, and Nochtstuhl, compelled them at the point of revolvers to go down into the basement, where the thieves bound and gagged both men.

Returning to the banking office, the thieves cleaned up to the tune of between $5,000 and $10,000 and made a getaway by a rear door. After making the bank clerks helpless the thieves gave each some kicks and punches for good measure as they lay prostrate upon the floor.

After tying their legs the thieves turned the bank clerks over, face downward, and tied their hands over their heads, and then proceeded to do business. It was fully twenty minutes before Nochtstuhl was enabled to free one of his hands to get a knife from his pocket and cut the cord that bound his feet. He then quickly released Mr. Dahl. When both doors were found locked, the clerks took to the roof.

Sylvia and Sylvia.

How beautiful Sylvia looked that morning. The clear Virginia sunlight played upon her and her brown hair seemed almost golden. Her great gray eyes, twin stars, looked straight into mine and I wondered what thoughts they hid. Nearer and nearer I drew to Sylvia, and I could feel her breath, sweet as a clover field in June, on my warm brow. We were alone.

A harsh voice rang out.

SUMMER PLAYERS AT CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y.

Wonderful Amateur Company Produces Best Plays With Settings of Burlap and Pasteboard.

Few stock companies have ever attracted as much attention as the amateur company of Chautauqua Players, which produce the best obtainable plays, both modern and classic, in the auditorium at Chautauqua, N. Y.

Benedict Papot, who is an instructor of languages at Chicago university, directs the company of twenty-two players, with the common combinations of burlap and pasteboard backgrounds, obtains effects that are pronounced marvelous by the best critics.

M. Papot has long been known as the "best amateur stage director in America" and has a wonderful capacity for contriving scenic effects. He is a hard worker and during the Christmas vacation took his company to New York city, where they produced their repertoire under the auspices of the House of Play Foundation, at St. Mark's church on the Bowery.

The New York Times gave them high praise, and their stay had to be prolonged to repeat several productions. Everywhere there is now a great craze for amateur theatricals and for simplicity in stage effects. Chautauqua has taken the lead in this respect, and her players have won applause wherever they have gone.

Plays "Sweet Lavender," Clyde Fitch's "Nathan Hale" and Grundy's "A Pair of Spectacles" will be given this season.

WOMEN INDORSE CHAUTAUQUA

Strengthened and Encouraged by It, Declares Noted Club President.

From Chautauqua, N. Y., I go back to the million women of the General Federation of Women's Clubs strengthened and encouraged and tell them of that place where a woman can be reinvigorated and sent back home proud of that noblest profession—being a woman," said Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of this largest organization of women, in a recent interview.

"Women everywhere are taking a live interest in public affairs, civic and social administration. Their minds are open to gather facts. At Chautauqua they find the greatest preachers, the best teachers, famous writers and statesmen.

"The democratic air of comfort and informality brings speaker and audience closer together. The rolling hills, the pleasant walks, the bracing highland lake air strengthen the careworn. This combination makes every one glad they are alive, whether woman or man or child."

Summer Schools at Chautauqua, N. Y.

For many years registration in Chautauqua's Summer Schools has annualy exceeded all previous records. The reason is obviously in the excellent service which is given by the corps of university teachers and instructors along professional lines. Two thousand four hundred students and more were registered during July and August, 1914. The institution supplies 220 instructors, according to their regular catalogue. Ten college buildings and 300 separate courses are available. Nine hundred children are cared for in classes under their special department. These schools were organized in 1885 by President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago and have since set an example which has been the standard for nearly all the great summer schools of this country.

Twenty scholarships entitling the holders to Summer School privileges are given out annually to teachers in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Bishop Vincent's motto, "Education Ends Only With Life," has a real meaning for most people at Chautauqua. Men and women of all ages, one or two being in the eighties, are registered in the Summer Schools. All show a keen interest and a youthful enthusiasm.

CHAUTAUQUA.

What the Word Means and Where It Came From.

An Indian chief pulled a big muskellunge from the cool waters of a twenty-mile lake and properly called it Chautauqua lake. Bishop Vincent and his coworker, Lewis Miller of Akron, O., sought a beautiful point on its shores for their convention of Sunday school teachers in 1874. And with Bishop Vincent's popular ideas for educating folks of middle age and teaching them how to enjoy life the place grew into an institution at Chautauqua, N. Y., that is now world famous.

The name is borne by five towns in Illinois, Kansas, New York, Texas and Washington, by many industries in western New York state, by apartment houses in New York city and by a sleeping car and a ferry on the Hudson. The name has been adopted by 3,000 popular imitations of the "original Chautauqua." The majority of these travel from place to place on a "circuit" and are managed by independent bureaus in the same way a circus is handled.

Chautauqua Institution has been incorporated on the spot made famous by Bishop John H. Vincent and is continued as an educational and philanthropic enterprise by a board of trustees under the presidency of his son, George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota.

The world's greatest public forum and one of the world's largest summer schools are held here during the summer months of July and August.

Kiddies find Chautauqua Institution a veritable paradise. They are provided with day nurseries, kindergartens, playrooms and a big outdoor playground with sand piles and running water. Boys have a clubhouse and the girls do too. Straw rides and sunset picnics are a part of each day's program. Chautauqua, New York state, takes care of the whole family.

A CHILD'S PARADISE.

All Ages Cared For by Trained Attendants.

No summer resort in America plans more carefully for the children whether babies, half grown, or youngsters of twelve to eighteen, than does the big institution at Chautauqua, New York.

A great kindergarten nursery is provided for the little ones, with plenty of sunshine and fresh air. Here young women who are training themselves in the Summer School to become kindergarten teachers give them the best attention. Babies can be checked here like luggage, and the tired mother who wants to be free for the whole day can leave her baby in the morning and call for it at night, with the surety that it will be well fed and cared for.

A playground and elementary school take care of older children who must be kept busy at something, half study and half play. Then the great Playstead, with its steep, rocky walls for fencing, and its big piles of pure white sand, and its running brook makes the best sort of a place for children to romp and paddle about in.

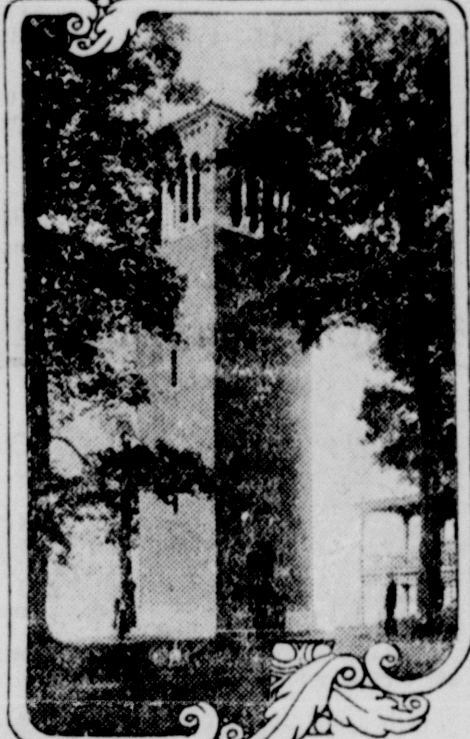

The older children have an out of doors gymnasium in which are the usual collection of see-saws, ladders, natural slides, climbing poles, chinning oars and merry-go-rounds. Over 900 children are registered in the Summer School classes which are graded for all ages, and where individual instruction can be given if needed.

Studies of birds and animal life are emphasized, when squads of youngsters are taken for long walks over the hills or picnicking about the grounds. The Boy Scouts are most active in their program under a fine head master. And the Boys' Club House and Girls' Club House offer a fine place for gatherings, whether in the daytime or in the evening.

Few summer resorts cater to "family trade" as does this famous Chautauqua. Its object is to give happiness and health to every member of the family.

TOWER OF CHIMES.

The bell tower erected in honor of Lewis Miller by Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, his daughter, and other children. A huge set of Meneely chimes tell the hour, toll the curfew and play over popular airs and hymn tunes for the "20,000 friendly folks" at Chautauqua, N. Y. Its cupola offers a splendid view of Chautauqua lake.

Religious Conference Program at Chautauqua, N. Y.

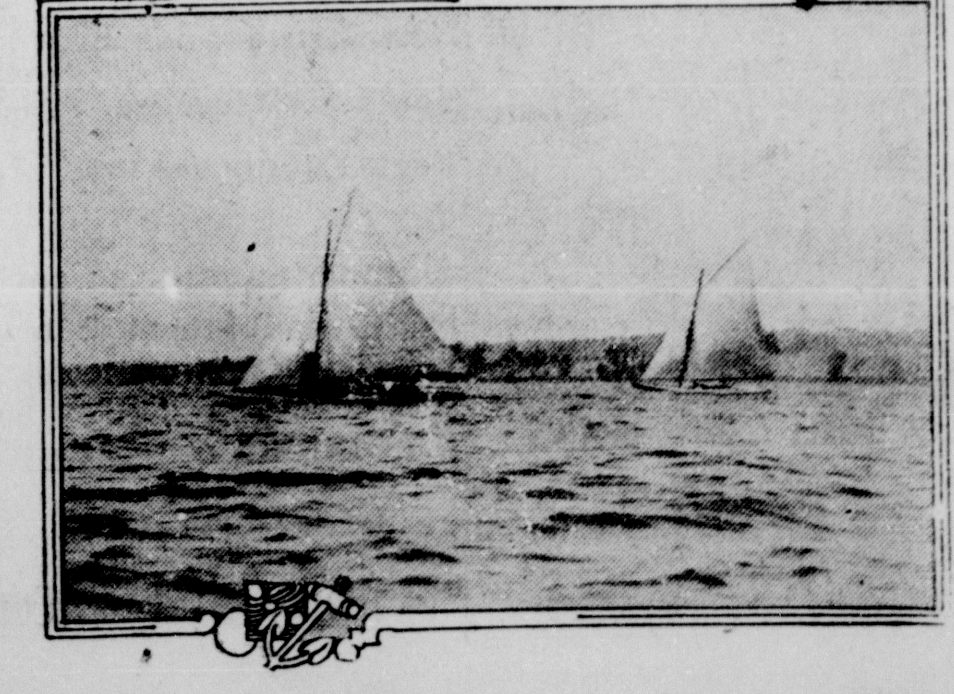

Religious interest at Chautauqua Institution, Chautauqua, N. Y., has always been a "live" rather than a dominating factor in that remarkable assembly which Theodore Roosevelt has called "the most American thing in America."

Bishop Vincent, the founder, always attracted the ablest and most sincere men from all walks of life for his famous sixty day forum program, whether they were ministers or statesmen or presidents of the United States.

Most summer assemblies are either operated by some religious sect as a philanthropy or are launched as a commercial enterprise pure and simple. Chautauqua Institution, however, was carefully kept on a nonsectarian basis from its very beginning in 1874. Every denomination has been invited to its platform and church houses are at present maintained by Congregational, Methodist, Episcopal, Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Baptist, Disciples, Unitarian and Lutheran societies.

Dean Shailer Mathews of Chicago Theological seminary and president of the Federated Council of Churches has charge of the religious department, its lectures and study courses. Other famous preachers, such as Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, president of Armour Institute, Chicago; Bishop Charles D. Williams, Episcopal bishop of Michigan; Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Denver; Dr. Samuel B. McCormick, University of Pittsburgh, take part at Chautauqua, N. Y.

It is now forty-eight years since the purchase of Alaska, but the people of the United States are only just beginning to get an inkling of its interior industrial possibilities. From this time forward it is safe to predict a swifter development. The opening of the Panama canal puts Alaska within easier reach from our populous Atlantic front.

There are stores of coal and copper in the great stretches of workable mining land between the Alaska mountains and the sea. New railroad facilities will give still greater push to industrial expansion. Alaskan coal is even a more important asset than Alaskan gold. The more we know of Alaska the more we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the foresighted wisdom that induced its purchase nearly half a century ago. It was a great bargain at $7,200,000.

THE DOCTOR'S ORDERS.

With a Side Light on the State of Poor George's Health.

Mrs. Oldwed (calling on Mrs. Newlywed)—How nice and cozy you have it here in your flat, dearie. I can imagine how proud Mr. Newlywed must be to come home to a dinner prepared by your own hands.

Mrs. Newlywed (with a suspicion of a tear in her eyes)—By, my dear Mrs. Oldwed, do you know I am all broken up over poor George's health? He does not eat heartily like he did the first few days after we were married. Our doctor called last evening and said I must not be alarmed over George's lack of appetite. He even said it was best for a person never to dine unless one could eat with a relish. I ordered several kinds of sauces, some mustard, horseradish and also some relishes from the grocer today, and I do hope poor George will be able to enjoy his dinner tonight.—Judge.

Freezin' weather makes me shirk. Spring comes on an' finds me wishin' I could end my days a-shinin'. Then in summer, when it's hot, I say work can go to pot. Autumn days, so calm an' hazy, Sorter makes me kinder lazy. That's the way the seasons run, Seems I can't git nothin' done.

APPEALS MADE FOR GREAT SUMS

Every tenth man, woman and child in the state of Ohio will receive, within the current week, an envelope from the state headquarters of the Ohio Sunday School association at Columbus, an envelope for the collection of small change to be a part of the solicitation for the $100,000 sustaining fund that is now being raised. This county, like every other in the state, has been organized for the work. Fayette Sunday school workers are taking deep interest in the movement.

The 500,000 envelopes which have been sent out are only an incident in the campaign. Already every mail is bringing checks and money orders to Columbus from schools which want to be on the honor roll of early givers. Every individual who subscribes $1 or more will have his name inscribed in a great Book of Memory, which will be kept forever on file at the state headquarters.

THEY SAW THE GHOST.

Easy to Recognize the Woman Who Had Haunted the Place.

"A certain lady and her family," says Sir Mountstuart Grant-Duff in his "Diary," "hired a place in Scotland which was haunted by the ghost of a woman, who was to be seen constantly at night wandering through the rooms and passages. When the family arrived the lady was much struck with the place and said, 'I must have been here before, for I know this place so well, only there ought to be two rooms here, and there is only one.'"

"The agent replied that within a few weeks the owner had caused a partition to be taken down and made the two rooms into one. Still the lady was puzzled at her knowledge of the place till she remembered that it was a house she used to go to in her dreams."

"Well, some time passed, and the agent was up at the house again, when the lady complained that one part of the contract had not been fulfilled. They had hired a house and a ghost for the summer, and no ghost had she seen."

"The agent replied: 'Of course not, because you, madam, are the ghost. We recognized you the moment we saw you.'"

If a man wishes to be treated with courtesy he should show courtesy to others.

Among the innovations brought on by the war is the establishment of a permanent passenger and freight line to bring Europe and America together by way of the Pacific ocean. Absence of German submarines in the Pacific is probably one of the reasons for the new Vancouver to Vladivostok route. It will take many days to reach Paris from Vancouver, but what is time in comparison with the danger and uncertainty of traversing the war zone!

Under Way and Russ Are Convinced
They Will Ultimately Win—Report Says Belief Is Growing That Russia Is Doing More Than Her Share—All Russia Sends Up Prayers for Victory—
Country Laid Waste by Retreating
Slavs

By Associated Press.
London, July 22.—While prayers
for victory were being said today
throughout Russia, the Austrians and Germans continued their drive at Warsaw from the north and the west and south.

Meanwhile they were reaching further north toward Riga on the Baltic, from which their advance guard is not more than 20 miles.

The tone of dispatches from Petrograd bespeaks plainly that the country is aware of the gravity of the military situation, involving not only the fate of the Polish capital, but the integrity of the Russian army in Poland, the northern and southern sections of which might be cut in twain by a decisive defeat
along the Lublin-Cholm railway.

It is along this section that the Russians are now fighting most desperately; for this railway is the sole great artery of communication of Poland with southern Russia,
sweeping away from Lublin and Cholm towards Odessa.

Having several times been reported within five miles of the railway, and now, according to Austrian claims, having pierced the Russian front, this section of the Teutonic forces should be within rifle shot of the railway, but no claim has been

made of having seized it.

Northwest of Lublin, however, the Teutonic forces have pushed forward to the bridge head positions
south of Ivangorod, and thence northward. Around the circle which is tightening on Warsaw, they have made steady progress, though meeting with serious opposition along the Narew river, northwest of the capital.

Elsewhere, generally speaking, the Russians are falling back, employing the tactics with which they harassed Napoleon in 1812; that is, they are not only burning all bridges and destroying roads, but are laying waste the countryside with fire and dynamite, removing such provisions as they can; destroying such as they cannot take away; driving cattle and other live stock before them and leaving for the invaders a ruin and desolate waste.

All Courland has been laid waste, and Windau, in flames, sent up a
glow visible many miles away.

The British public is hoping that Grand Duke Nicholas may stem the Austro-German tide, or at least extricate his armies and continue a further retreat.

Eliminating the stroke against Riga, the operations in Poland occupy a front of 800 miles, divisible

into three principal areas; the first,
along the Narew, north and west of Warsaw; the second, the center on the Vistula, between Warsaw and Ivangorod; the third, in the vicinity of Lublin where the Austrians and Germans are fighting for the railway.

The situation, as the British press sees it, is crucial. Coincident with dispatches from Russia, saying the spirit of the army is unbroken, and the belief in ultimate victory is strong, comes the report that the feeling is growing that Russia is doing more than her share in the war, bearing at present almost the entire burden.

APPEALS TO OHIOANS FOR DONATIONS

Columbus, July 22.—Governor
Willis today appealed to the people of Ohio for contributions of food, clothing or money, to be given for relief of destitute miners in the southern and eastern parts of the state.

He asked that these donations be sent directly to the adjutant general at Columbus. He will distribute them in communities where they are most needed.

"In the name of humanity, I appeal to the people of Ohio to give
of their substance to aid in the alleviation of suffering," said the governor in a proclamation. He refers particularly to conditions in southern Ohio coal fields.

"The plain facts are, that for many months the mines have been closed, or running only part time.
Want and hunger stalk through a section of our state once busy with industry before paralyzed by business depression. Thousands of families are actually in want. Women and children are hungry; men, who ask not charity, are anxious for an opportunity to work."

would not be necessary to call out
state troops.

Scores of strikers and others gathered at the works of the Standard Oil Company this morning. Inside the yard a small fire broke out, but
was quickly extinguished.

Strikers say trouble started when one man was shot while walking near the company's works. The crowd, led by John Surgen, a former Austrian soldier, charged up the bank to attack the company's guards.
Surgen fell at the first fire.

The crowd pressed on and a 16-year-old boy was wounded. The crowd then fell back and withdrew.

The sheriff said that should it be necessary to call the troops, they would be in readiness to move im-

NOTE IS NOW ON WAY TO GERMANY

American Rejoinder Clears Wires
at Washington Last Night
and Will Be Made Public Fri-
day Evening—Future Conduct of Germany to Determine Action of United States.

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 22.—The new American note to Germany is now on its way to Berlin. It was cleared from Washington over the telegraph wires during the night, and today was being flashed over the cables to London and thence to Copenhagen,
where it goes over the land wires
again to the German Foreign Office.
It should reach its destination tonight or early tomorrow.

Secretary Lansing announced that the text of the note would be given out here Friday afternoon for publication in morning papers of Saturday. Then will follow a period of waiting until a reply is received.

Concerning future conduct of German submarines, the note does not necessarily call for an answer, as it announces the intention of the United States to regard any further violation of international law resulting in the loss of American lives as unfriendly.

On the other hand, the American demands for disavowal of any intention to sink the Lusitania and the request for reparation were renewed in the new note, and very likely those, with other points such as the willingness of the United States to act as an intermediary between the belligerents to adjust the rules of maritime warfare, probably will be the basis for further discussion by Germany.

Washington, July 22.—It is generally agreed among officials here,
however, that any loss of American lives in the meantime would, in itself, raise the question of action, irrespective of any formal reply from Germany.

What action would be taken by the United States in the event of further violation of American rights is not disclosed, but a general understanding prevails that another disaster such as befell the Lusitania would mean the immediate assembling of Congress.

President Wilson has given careful consideration to eventualities to which the new American note may commit the United States, and he believes it places squarely on Germany responsibility for any action
that may cause rupture.

Five are Republicans and five Democrats. According to the law, at least six must be practical farmers. All will serve without pay. They must elect a secretary, who will receive a salary of $4,000 a year.

EXPRESS BARONS ARE FAVORED BY A NEW DECISION

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 22.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission decided today that the revenues of the principal express companies of the United States are inadequate, and modified its former order to provide additional income.
The effect will be to increase the collection and delivery allowance for each shipment and to reduce the terminal allowance. On shipments of more than 100 pounds, the readjustment will not make any change.
The companies are expected to increase their gross revenue 3.86 per cent.

Have you ever wanted a collar badly and found those just returned to you badly worn and broken?

Did you ever start to dress in a hurry, put on your collar, start to tie your four-in-hand and have your tie stick?

What did you do? Give the collar a yank, have it come unbuttoned or buckle up and crack at the joints? If after the struggle you succeeded with the tie did you whistle merrily or did you?

The Rothrock Laundry is laundering collars without cracking and with an easy tie space.

WARSAW'S FATE IS IN BALANCE

Series of Battles to North, South and West of the City.

RUSS FIGHTING DESPERATELY

Three Fierce Counter Attacks Delivered From Russian Fortresses Reported Repulsed—Muscovites Suffer Reverse West of Warsaw and Retreat Toward the Vistula—Germans Within Striking Distance of Riga.

London, July 22.—Dispatches from the east state that a series of great battles, the result of which will seal the fate of Warsaw, is being fought to the north, west and south of that city. Having successfully retired to positions on the rivers and well flanked by fortresses, the Russians have turned and are fighting desperately to stem the Austro-German onslaughts. To the north, on the river Narw, they delivered three fierce counter attacks from the fortresses of Rosan, Pultusk and Novo Georgievsk. The Germans, who had taken one outwork of Rosan, repulsed these counter attacks, according to the official report received from Berlin, but apparently have been unable to make any further progress southward.

Immediately to the west of Warsaw, on what is known as the Blonie-Grojec line, the Russians have suffered a reverse and are retreating toward the Vistula. Farther south, the army of General Von Woyrsch is making progress toward the same river, which has been reached at one point.

To the south of Ivagorod Field Marshal Von Mackensen, who is directing the offensive between the Vistula and the Bug, has reached the Russian lines, and here the greatest of all the battles is being fought—for the possession of the Lublin-Cholm railway.

On the resistance the Russians are able to offer along this front, where the Austro-Germans are making their biggest effort, probably depends the success or failure of the Austro-German operations. Apparently the Austro-Germans feel pretty certain of the outcome, for it is said that Emperor William, who is at Posen, has sent for the empress in order to make a state entry into the Polish capital when it falls.

Things are moving a little more quickly in Courland, where the Germans claim to have met with successes all along the line, bringing them within striking distance of Riga and the roads which supply that town from the south.

There is another battle in progress along the borders of Bessarabia, but how this is going the official communications do not say.

The French have made another bid for the valley of the Fecht, in the Vosges. They have delivered several attacks which have been partially successful and have captured the heights dominating that valley from the east.

The Italian offensive on the Isonzo continues and Rome reports further progress, particularly on the Carso plateau.

MEN ARE IN UGLY MOOD

New York, July 22.—Homicide, rioting and arson were combined in the kaleidoscopic events that marked the strike of the employees of the Constable Hook plant in Bayonne of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. One striker was killed and twenty-five men, including strikers, private detectives and policemen, were injured in the rioting.

As a climax of the dramatic events of the day four fires were started on property owned by the oil company and within an hour those fires, having all united in one big blaze, were threatening the big Standard Oil plant with its 400 tanks of oil. The fire department with difficulty subdued the flames.

The spirit of the strikers and of their sympathizers is extremely ugly. When it was reported that the state militia might be called out, the strikers openly announced that wholesale bloodshed would follow.

FIRES WERE NOT WORK OF SPIES

New York, July 22.—An investigation by Rear Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, commandant of the navy yard in Brooklyn, of small fires which occurred aboard the superdreadnaught New York and the destroyer Warrington, disclosed that the fires were such as commonly occur; were trivial in character, and could not possibly have been caused by persons intent upon injuring United States war vessels.

STRIKE IN NAVY YARDS FEARED

Washington, July 22.—Threats were made by local labor leaders that skilled mechanics employed in the Washington navy yard might go on strike if President Wilson failed to direct Secretary Daniels to restore the wage scale that prevailed in the year prior to July 1. The suggestion was made further that if the men walked out, sympathetic strikes might be declared in other navy yards.

STORY FAILS TO IMPRESS THE GOVERNOR

Whitman Says It Fails to Throw Light on Rosenthal Murder.

NOT LIKELY TO STAY EXECUTION

New York Governor Dismisses Whatever Ray of Hope Attorneys For the Condemned Man Saw in the Statement Submitted to the Executive—Pointed Comment Made on Becker's Communication.

Albany, N. Y., July 22.—"There is absolutely nothing at all to throw any light upon the murder of Herman Rosenthal in Becker's statement. In fact it goes to corroborate the testimony of Rose that Becker, a uniformed police lieutenant, was urging him to keep quiet. Becker says Alfred Henry Lewis had told him that he was being framed up. Becker should have called Mr. Lewis. He would have made a material witness for the defense."

Governor Whitman thus dispelled whatever ray of hope counsel for Charles Becker saw in the statement submitted to the executive. The governor's comment on Becker's statement indicated that he has no intention of interfering with fulfillment of the order of execution upon anything that Becker has so far said.

The governor regards the statement as a sense as a corroboration of Rose's testimony that Becker, at the time of the murder, kept sending to Rose an injunction against saying anything. That these requests for silence on the part of Rose were designed to protect the good reputation of Tim Sullivan, as Becker explained them, did not impress the executive. The fact that the only new points in the statement, new to the governor, the one relating to Tim Sullivan, the other to Alfred Henry Lewis, concern dead men, further operates to shake the governor's credence in what Becker has put on paper. Testimony such as Becker claims Lewis would have been able to give would have a strong bearing on the outcome of the first Becker trial or the second in the mind of Governor Whitman. The fact that it is brought to light now that Lewis had advised Becker that he was being framed, a long time after Lewis' death, does not lend to the strength of Becker's plea, the governor holds.

That part of the statement which sought to explain that the conference held by Sullivan, Becker and Rose on the Sunday night preceding the murder of Rosenthal has been known to Governor Whitman for a long time. Accordingly, it is not believed it will have any effect upon him, even though Becker declares that the purpose of the conference was to devise some way of spiriting Rosenthal out of town in order to close his mouth before the grand jury.

If Governor Whitman fails to take any favorable action in Becker's behalf, it is certain that an application for a new trial will be made before the supreme court within a day or two. Becker's lengthy statement had the effect of smoking out Harry M. Appelbaum, for years secretary to former Congressman T. D. Sullivan, and now an attorney.

Appelbaum said that Big Tim at that time was afraid that his relations with Rosenthal would be misunderstood (he had lent Rosenthal $9,500 and if this became known he was afraid the people would think he was Rosenthal's partner), and he said that it would be a good thing to have Rosenthal go away until the turmoil stirred by Rosenthal had settled.

Becker opposed this solution strongly, saying that if Rosenthal went away people would think that he, Becker, was responsible for it, and it would look very bad for Becker.

Goodyear Fortified Tires Cost Users $5,000,000 Less

Our last price reduction—made February 1st—will save Goodyear users about five million dollars this year. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Yet Note This

Yet Goodyear Fortified Tires embody many extras. Five are costly features found in no other tire. The rest are found in few.

If we omitted those extras, we could save on this year's probable output $1,635,000. We could add that to our profits, yet Goodyear tires would look as good as now.

This year's improvements alone will cost us $500,000 this year. All to give you extra wear. And we shall spend $100,000 on research this year to find more improvements still.

They Are Yours

These extras belong to you. They mean less rim-cuts, less blowouts, less loose treads. They mean more rubber, more fabric, more mileage, less trouble. Most tire users know that, so Goodyear tires far outsell any other. Prove it yourself this summer. It will bring you tire contentment.

Any dealer, if you ask him, will supply you Goodyear tires.

Men are now adopting Goodyear tires faster than we can supply them. We have never seen anything like it.

STRIKE MAY BE CALLED OFF

Bridgeport, Conn., July 22.—It is expected that the Bridgeport labor war for an eight-hour day on all ammunition work being done under Remington contracts will be settled peaceably by Monday. The big strike throughout the city got under way, with several clashes between the police and the strikers, but J. J. Keppler, international vice president of the machinists, left for New York asserting that his men would probably be back to work next week. Following the policy of Major Penfield in the new Remington plant, officials of the old Remington Metallic Cartridge company posted a notice, based on a vote of the machinists and tool makers, granting them approximately a 20 per cent increase in salary for an eight-hour day. Other plants are making similar efforts to grant the demands of the workers without a tieup.

Move to Retire Gompers

Reports to the effect that there is a well organized and determined movement in the American Federation of Labor organization to retire President Samuel Gompers to the ranks, are persistent and seem to have some basis in fact.

Disinterested folks have long since determined that if Gompers ever was any real aid to the cause of organized labor, he has outlived his usefulness and that the cause of labor would be very much enhanced in public esteem by his retirement.

Gompers has devoted by far the major portion of his time and thought to matters political, claiming the ability to deliver the labor vote to one or the other of the political parties. He has obtained much unpleasant notoriety on account of his political activities and has generally lined up with the interests opposed to the cause of labor.

His identification with the cause of labor has been a real handicap during the last decade and his services have been such as to add to rather than lessen that handicap.

The attempt of Gompers to discourage the efforts of those who would organize and promote labor's National Peace Conference has brought him his latest unpopularity and has caused those opposed to his intention as head of organized labor, to inaugurate a move to get rid of him.

His opposition to the proposal of labor, which must bear the burden of war, in its move for peace is in entire harmony with his record and it is quite likely that labor will refuse to overlook his latest "break."

Japan Claims a "Billy Sunday."

Japan claims to have a "Billy Sunday," whose sobriquet was gained by his supposed similarity in methods to those of the American evangelist.

His real name is Mr. Kimura and his work is the outcome of having been brought under the personal influence of the famous Mr. Sunday. Visiting in the United States he attended over fifty meetings held by Mr. Sunday and gives out the statement that he was "moved to tears six times in one hour on hearing him; the first time in twenty-five years that I had such an experience."

He seems to have patterned after the American exhorter to some purpose in Tokio and other Japanese cities for he makes the assertion that nobody goes to sleep during his preaching, and that is a claim proof positive of his hold upon his audience.

According to the story a Tokio correspondent concerning the meetings of Japan's Billy Sunday, "the picture was much the same as at American revivalists' meetings, with the added interest of the rich-colored flowing Kimono, the black hair of the Japanese women, the occasional clatter of the wooden shoe, and the many-hued Japanese decorations."

Mr. Kimura has already achieved such recognition that every week for the next year and a half is filled with engagements.

Progress Does Not Consist in Accumulating Riches, but Wise Use of Knowledge

By Professor GUGLIELMO FERRERO, Italian Historian

WE can say the world is progressing when we compare our epoch with ancient Greece, because we enjoy the Grecian art and literature, we know their philosophy, we have kept some political sentiments and principles as patriotism, but we know as well the principles of other arts unknown to the Greeks—the medieval architecture and Japanese sculpture, for example; we also know the philosophy that came after them; we feel the VIRTUE CREATED BY CHRISTIANITY, THE LOVE OF OUR NEIGHBOR, CHARITY, THE CHASTITY OF LOVE.

Progress does not consist in accumulating riches, in the power or the knowledge of man, but in the high, noble, sacred use of this new knowledge, of this new power and of these new riches. The ancient civilizations excelled in curbing man's energy in such a way as to keep him from committing too great acts of danger and folly, but at the same time they held in check the power to create good things and take initiative.

Modern civilization has been able to excite man's energy, freeing it from many checks, so that it could create prodigious things, but among the chains cast away are those that served to hold man back from supreme folly.

Poetry For Today

DEAR MEMORIES.

Dear memories were fair to build her shrine
Than sculptured monument from master hands,
A temple mine, in which each tender line
Is but the flowering of her love.
Here stands
In pointed spire her spirit fine and pure
On arch whose key is held by truth serene,
A lovely edifice. Her faith so sure,
Inspired with trust of Him who rules unseen,
Had laid the corner stone; and all the grace
Of her dear thought, her rare unselfishness
Had mothered it with sense that seemed divine,
As when God's spirit gently touched the face
Of some dear saint, whom we have come to bless,
With inner light. Such light, dear one, was thine.

An Old Guidebook.
Of all the old guidebooks none is sought so keenly by collectors as some of Murray's early guides. Perhaps the most precious of these as a bibliographical curiosity is the first edition of "Murray's Guide to Switzerland," published in 1838. Mountaineering as a popular pastime was not then invented, and in the section devoted to Mont Blanc the author contemptuously declares that "it is a somewhat remarkable fact that a large proportion of those who have made this ascent have been persons of unsound mind."—London Chronicle.

It never happens in the novels. But in real life the hero often gets a good trimming.

ARABIAN HORSES.

Ancient Stories of Their Care and Training Are Mere Fables.

So far as we know, the Arabian breeders have no patented system of training their horses different from those prevailing among peoples of a similar degree of civilization. Naturally the lack of pasture results in young Arabian horses being fed a considerable quantity of barley and, so the story goes at least, a not inconsiderable quantity of the fruit of the date palm, fresh and dried, by way of succulence.

The colts are broken, usually bare-backed, at two or three years old. Their subsequent handling is much like that of all other horses, with perhaps the difference that as early in life as possible the young animals are accustomed to doing without water for increasing periods of time in order to accustom them later on to the scarcity of liquids in desert journeys.

The ancient stories about the Arab steed being kissed and bawled over by the sheik's whole family, kept in the living tent and foaled on the best silk rugs are picturesque fables containing about the same measure of truth as the one which dates the pedigrees of Arabian horses back to the mares owned in Biblical times by King Solomon.—Breeder's Gazette.

Mr. Wise Guy.

Mr. Wise Guy sat beside the road watching his chauffeur doctor a puncture. Presently a farmer, leading a youthful calf, passed.

"Where'd you get the calf, Rube?" Mr. Wise Guy inquired impudently.
"Set a hen on a bottle o' milk," was the reply.

And Mr. Wise Guy was mean enough to threaten to fire the chauffeur for laughing.—Indianapolis News.

General Gorgas speaks in favor of the midday dinner. He was considering health and mortality problems in the Panama canal zone. A heavy meal at midday generally goes with a long rest, and the rest is not the least of the benefits. Where the workday begins at 6 or 7 o'clock and lasts till evening a long midday rest spell is fairly earned and is also good economy.

PATRONS ALL EAGER FOR CHAUTAUQUA NEXT YEAR

Bell Ringers and Dr. Fisher Prove Popular With Large Audiences Wednesday, and Impersonator and Talented Musicians Give Delightful Program Today, With Another Promised Tomorrow.

When the large audience left the Chautauqua tent Wednesday night there were few persons but what carried in their hearts a greater love for their country and who realized as never before the magnitude, the power, and the wonders carried by the United States. And it was due to the intensely interesting illustrated lecture given by Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher on "America Before the World."

The manner in which he developed his subject and illustrated it appealed to his auditors, and close attention was given to the words of the speaker and the large number of

illustrations which depicted many of the country's greatest wonders.

In the afternoon Dr. Fisher had delivered a message that made a profound impression, speaking upon "One Blood." He explained the barriers which have kept man from being brotherly, showing that the only way to peace was by love and charity to all mankind. One significant thought stated by Dr. Fisher was: "Money, religion, everything that should unite us, divides us from being one blood. Race prejudice is another barrier."

Ralph Dunbar's five singing bell ringers proved one of the most popular attractions of the chautauqua, and time after time the entertainers were recalled by the delighted audience. While their specialties proved popular, it was their splendid work on the magnificent peal of bells that really appealed to the big audiences. The Dunbar bell ringers can return to Washington any time and will be met with rounds of applause.

As predicted by Supt. Bingham, the Ribaldoff-Skibinsky Company of musicians scored a tremendous success Thursday afternoon, and tonight another big audience is expected to hear the talented musicians, in a great concert which is expected to appeal to every lover of really good music.

Albert H. Johnstone, who had been on the program for tonight, was changed to the afternoon in order that business and professional men might hear Dr. D. Whitefield Ray in his lecture on "Through Five Republics on Horseback." Mr. Johnstone delighted the afternoon audience with his extremely clever impersonations and acting.

Tomorrow, Last Day.

The L. A. C. Women's Orchestra will furnish the afternoon concert tomorrow, the last day of the chautauqua, and Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, who won considerable notoriety on the famous "Senate investigation Committee," will deliver his highly interesting lecture on "Political Tendencies."

Both the musical company and Senator Kenyon are worthy of the large audiences which have yet attended the chautauqua.

At the close of the Wednesday night's musical program, pledge cards were passed among the audience, and a large number of tickets for next year's chautauqua were promised. A rising vote on whether or not a chautauqua should be held next year, brought virtually every person in the tent to their feet.

The chautauqua this season has been a splendid one and it is the intention of the committee to surpass the attractions next year.

WHEAT CONDITION GRADUALLY IMPROVES

The condition of wheat received at the local elevators, while most of it is still damp, is improving steadily but requires close attention on the part of the grain dealers to prevent damage by heat or mold.

Threshing is general throughout the county and during favorable weather the wheat pours in rapidly. Yields reaching as high as 31 bushels to the acre have been reported. The yield runs from a very few bushels up to 22 bushels per acre, usually, and larger yields are extremely unusual this year.

One man reports a field of 80 acres with a yield of only 360 bushels.

FREIGHT CONDUCTOR "FALLS UNDER TRAIN"

B. & O. freight conductor, Willis, of Blanchester, had a very narrow escape from being ground to pieces under a freight train in this city Wednesday, when he slipped and fell beneath a box car.

Conductor Willis fell headlong between the rails and one pair of trucks passed over him before the train was halted. By flattening himself to the ties Willis was able to prevent himself being crushed to death. One arm and one leg were bruised, but otherwise he suffered no injuries. The nervous shock to the man was severe.

WORK MEETS WITH GENERAL APPROVAL

The repairing of the paving on Court street is meeting with general approval and it is expected that within the next few days when the work is entirely finished, that Court street will be in better condition than for several years.

The number of sink-holes in the street was surprisingly large, but a gang of men under direction of Service Director Gerstner have been removing the old brick where repairs were urgently in demand, and replacing the brick with a better quality, laid on a concrete foundation, insuring the surface retaining its proper grade.

TO REFRESH AUTO BOOSTERS

Dutch Treat Club to Extend Hospitality to Visitors Committee on Fall Festival Not Ready to Report at Thursday's Meeting.

At the noon dinner meeting of the Dutch Treat Club Thursday, a committee was appointed to communicate with the Ohio State Journal automobile boosters, who are to pass through here Tuesday afternoon, and to inform the latter that the local club will arrange to have refreshments for them on their arrival in Washington in case they expect to stop here for any length of time.

The committee is comprised of Messrs Ed Fite, Walter Craig, W. A. Sharp and Clarence Baer.

The committee appointed a week ago to consider the advisability of a fall festival in Washington, for this coming autumn, was not quite ready to make an official report and was granted an extension of time.

CARELESS OWNERS HAVE TO FORK OVER

Within the past month the police have picked up six horses and five cows and lodged them in livery barns, from which owners have had to pay one dollar and livery rent, in each case, to recover them.

The action of the police is the result of complaints from residents of neighborhoods in the streets on which the animals have been turned loose to graze, with a damage to gardens as a consequence.

From Oak and Gregg streets and the new Avondale additions the animals have been picked up.

AUTOISTS REMINDED OF "DIMMER" ORDER

Chief of Police Moore wishes to remind autoists of the "dimmer" ordinance, which is to go into effect Friday. The chief wants everyone to be prepared to observe this order as soon as it becomes effective.

Under the ordinance, which was passed at the last meeting of council, "dimmers" on automobile headlights must be employed within the city limits. These lights must not be of more than 16 candle power strength.

AUTOMOBILES WILL BE PARKED ON MAIN STREET

Mayor Coffey Thursday received a letter from Sport Editor Bob Read of the Ohio State Journal, inquiring as to what parking space will be available here for the Journal's booster party when it arrives next Tuesday afternoon.

In answering the mayor stated that he would try and give the party a block or two on Main street and, if possible, a portion of Court. The boosters will arrive here about 4:30 and will leave at 5:30 o'clock.

The Fate of the Oneida.

One of the most extraordinary catastrophes that have befallen vessels of the United States destroyed the sloop of war Oneida in 1869. She was bound homeward with a jolly ship's company eager to see wives and sweethearts and native land once more, when not far out of port she was struck by the British steamer Bombay coming in. The stem of the Bombay cut off the stern of the Oneida. The ship was sinking rapidly, and guns of distress were immediately fired, but the Bombay steamed on her way and left the vessel to her doom. She went down, and all but one or two of her crew were drowned. The captain of the Bombay gave no other reason for his conduct than that he had Lady Eyre, the wife of a distinguished British satrap, on board and did not wish to disturb her nerves with scenes of shipwreck. He was mobbed when he reached Yokohama, dismissed from the service, socially tabooed from that time on and died in disgrace a year or two later.

The Obstacles to Evil.

In the constitution of our nature a limit has been fixed to the triumph of evil. Falsity in theory is everywhere confronted by the facts which present themselves to every man's observation. A lie has no power to change the ordinances of God. Every day discloses its utter worthlessness until it fades away from our recollection and is numbered among the things that were. The indissoluble connection which our Creator has established between vice and misery tends also continually to arrest the progress of evil and to render odious whatever would render evil attractive.—Francis Wayland.

Frigga.

Frigga, from whom Friday is derived, was either a god or a goddess, according to time and country. As a man he was a great hunter and warrior, always represented with a drawn sword in one hand and a bow in the other. In the Scandinavian countries Frigga was called the "Venus of the North," and the sixth day of the week was consecrated to her worship.—London Mail.

There are still in this country settled districts remote from the reach of the telegraph. People so situated, even if the gap is only fifty miles, can imagine what the situation was before the coming of the "wire." After its general introduction gaps of hundreds of miles were common. But the greatest gap was between Europe and America. Fifty years ago this time Field was trying to bridge that gap with his cable. Starting from the other end, news of progress was wired back to Ireland, then came to America by steamer. Finally, when the western world was all expectation, messages ceased, and anxiety lasted for weeks. Then news came that the cable had parted in midocean over three weeks before. For another year Europe was ten days away from us.

That machine tiller of the soil which Mr. Ford promises will be as great a boon as the revolutionary cotton gin and spinning machine. If the pushing and pulling which the farmer has to do somehow could be simplified 50 per cent it would bring farming "within reach of the poor."

MANY WILL GO TO GREENFIELD NEXT SUNDAY

A union choir of 60 voices, from the Greenfield churches, will lead the singing at the big meeting of the Bible Classes at Greenfield chautauqua grounds Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and a large number of automobiles leaving this city will assemble in front of the court house square at one o'clock Sunday afternoon, and form in line for the trip to Greenfield. Indications are that each Bible class in the city will be represented. Hon. C. A. Reid will be among the speakers, and Mr. Kniesley will aid in the musical side of the program. Others taking part in the program include Judge Bitzer, of Chillicothe; Mr. Smith, of Leesburg; John P. Phillips, of Chillicothe; and well known speakers and musicians from Hillsboro, Bainbridge and other towns. The Greenfield churches are making extensive arrangements for the meeting, and a telephone communication from one of the committees Thursday afternoon stated that a very large number of all classes indicated had signified their intention of being present, either in a body or as individuals as possible from each class. In this city quite a number of automobiles have been promised during the past 48 hours, and indications are that a large delegation will make the trip. Owners of cars, who will offer their services, are urged to communicate the fact to the pastors of their respective churches without further delay.

In Social Circles

An event of unusual pleasure took place Wednesday afternoon in Yellow Springs when Misses Katherine Stevenson and Dorothy Davis, entertained a number of friends at a delightfully arranged party at the home of Miss Stevenson, and an announcement was made of the engagement of the two charming young ladies. Announcement of the engagement of Miss Davis and Lehr was the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Fess, will come as a pleasant surprise to their hosts of friends throughout the county. The engagement of Miss Stevenson to Dr. Russell Johnson Collins, of Coneaut, O., has been known to the intimate friends of the young couple for some time but had never been formally announced until the affair Tuesday afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Davis and Dr. Fess will be celebrated in August.—Xenia Republican.

OLD DEEDS ARE IN POSSESSION OF LOCAL WOMAN

Mrs. E. J. Nau, of East Temple street, is in possession of two valued souvenirs of the early days in the United States, in the shape of deeds made out to some of her ancestors, one of the instruments bearing date of 1757 and being 158 years old. Both deeds are yellowed by age, but virtually all of the inscription is almost as clear as the day it was written by hands which more than a hundred years ago had returned to the dust. The deed issued in 1757 was for 100 acres of land in Chester county, Pennsylvania, and was issued under the reign of Lord George the second. The other deed was issued in 1789, or 126 years ago, and conveys 74 1/2 acres in the state of Maryland. It has a peculiar seal attached, and the inscription, like that on the first mentioned instrument, is intensely interesting. Both manuscripts are sheepskin and in a remarkably good state of preservation.

FRANKFORT STILL GETS USUAL MAILS

The order by the Postoffice Department to discontinue the messenger service from Roxabel to Frankfort postoffice has been suspended, pending subsequent investigation by the Department of Inspection.

It is now up to the local citizens of Frankfort to make plain to the post-office authorities that the stopping of the mail service from the Roxabel postoffice on the B. & O. S. W. R. R. will impair the business interests of that community and that "just as good mail service" can be had from the C. H. & D. R. R.

Both of these points of business interest to Frankfort should be easy to demonstrate to the Postoffice Department.—Chillicothe Gazette.

BIG CONTRACTS LET BY B. & O.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has just placed contracts for equipment which will cost approximately $2,500,000. The order calls for 2000 steel hopper cars and fifty cars for passenger service, and immediate delivery is stipulated in the contracts. The hopper cars will be equipped with longitudinal doors and modern apparatus for complete and quick unloading. They will be built by the American Car and Foundry Company, East St. Louis, Ill., The Pressed Steel Car Company, Pittsburgh and the Cambria Steel Company, Johnstown, Pa. The order for passenger cars was placed with the Pullman Company, Chicago, and included thirty-five coaches, five combination passenger and baggage cars, two baggage and mail cars, four baggage cars, two Cafe Parlor cars and two Cafe coaches.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The modern business college is an institution which has been helping wonderfully in preparing young people for busy lives, and many a young man of today largely owes this institution for a great measure of his success.

Prominent among colleges of this class is the Bliss Business College, of Columbus, founded about fifteen years ago, and which today can exhibit proudly a long list of names of young persons trained along business lines and established in promising and paying positions. Young persons "on the fence" as to their future course can well afford to embrace the opportunity offered at Bliss College to secure a thorough business training and thereby lay the foundation for the success which comes to the man who "knows."

"STRICK" ON JOB

MATTER OF COTTON IS BIG ISSUE

Administration Concerned About England's Proposed Action.

Washington, July 22.—The growing agitation in England in favor of placing cotton on the British contraband list is attracting serious attention here. In spite of the fact that the British government last fall declared its intention not to make cotton contraband and the fact that it is known to be still unwilling to take this action, it is believed to be within the range of possibility that it will feel compelled to yield to the strong pressure being brought to bear upon it at home.

The cotton question is being called up anew by men representing southern interests, who are pointing out that while the world cotton market outside of Germany and Austria is now overstocked to the extent of nearly 3,000,000 bales, there is already in sight another large crop in this country. The desire of the cotton interests is of course for the United States government to secure access to the German and Austrian markets, which it is declared would just about take up the surplus from last year's crop.

All that the United States is now contending for in the cotton issue is the right of Americans to ship cotton to neutral countries without interference. It has refused to recognize the right of the British authorities to seize cargoes of cotton consigned to neutrals on the ground that they were ultimately destined for Germany or Austria. That the British are paying for cotton thus seized does not alter the position of the United States on the principle involved.

Should Great Britain declare cotton contraband and should the United States accomplish such a declaration as to cotton, the situation would be much less satisfactory from the point of view of both the cotton shippers and the state department. Cotton suspected of ultimate destination to Germany could then be seized and confiscated without compensation.

COL. COREY WINANS DIES SUDDENLY

Troy, O., July 22.—Colonel J. Corey Winans, seventy-five, of Troy and Toledo, traveling passenger agent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad and one of the most widely known civilian veterans in the state of Ohio, dropped dead here. For ten years Colonel Winans had been chief of staff of the department of Ohio, Grand Army, and for six years chief of staff of the national encampment of the Grand Army.

FRENCH REVERSE IN THE ARGONNE

Berlin (Via London), July 22.—The German forces in the Argonne stormed various French trenches, capturing five officers, 385 French troops and one machine gun, according to the official statement. The air raid which a squadron of French aeroplanes made on Colmar resulted in the death of one civilian and injury to a woman. Several houses were damaged.

GOOD ROADS DAY URGED BY SANDLES

Columbus, July 22.—A. P. Sandles, president of the state agricultural commission, sent letters to all county auditors urging them to have resolutions passed by their county commissioners requesting Governor Willis to issue a proclamation setting a "Good Roads" day in August.

CAR TAKES DITCH AND TURNS TURTLE

Toledo, July 22.—Edward Yoner, forty-five, stationary engineer of Washingtonville, was probably fatally injured when an automobile in which he was riding to Toledo ran into a ditch and turned turtle.

A beggar boy asked an old gentleman in the street for sixpence. "What will you do with it if I give you one?" asked the old gentleman. "Turn it into ninepence quick," replied the boy. "How?" "Give me the sixpence and I'll soon show you." The boy got the money, darted off to a baker's shop and bought a three penny loaf, with which he returned to the old gentleman and handed him back 3 pennies. "How's this? You said you would make the sixpence into ninepence." "So I have. The baker's got threepence, you've got threepence, and I've got a three penny loaf. That's ninepence."—Pearson's Weekly.

Mrs. Bacon—Where were you last night, John? Mr. Bacon (in alarm)—Why, dear? "I heard you talking in your sleep." "You did? What did I say, dear?" "You said somebody had 'cleamed you up good,' that's what you said." "Oh, yes; I was down to a Turkish bath, dear."—Yonkers Statesman.

Cacophonous Vicinage.

"I cannot sing the old, old songs." She warbled day and night. And all the neighbors were agreed That her sentiments were right. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Cruel Advice.

"Miss Oldgirl, would you like me to borrow Brother Jack's parrot to keep in your room?" "Why should I borrow your brother's parrot?" "Because I heard him say the language that bird uses would make your hair curl."—Baltimore American.

On the Side.

One day we heard a sideshow freak Most bitterly complain; The broken glass he ate that week Somehow gave him a pane. —Springfield Union.

VEGGS MAKE A BIG HAUL IN JERSEY

Blind and Gag Victims and Escape With Rich Booty.

Bloomfield, N. J., July 22.—"For God's sake send the police." These were the words shouted from the roof of the Bloomfield Savings Institution by Frank Nachstuhl, a bookkeeper at the institution. Then it was revealed that two thieves in broad daylight had entered the building and, after holding up Alexander Dahl, the assistant cashier, and Nachstuhl, compelled them at the point of revolvers to go down into the basement, where the thieves bound and gagged both men.

Returning to the banking office, the thieves cleaned up to the tune of between $5,000 and $10,000 and made a getaway by a rear door. After making the bank clerks helpless the thieves gave each some kicks and punches for good measure as they lay prostrate upon the floor.

After tying their legs the thieves turned the bank clerks over, face downward, and tied their hands over their heads, and then proceeded to do business. It was fully twenty minutes before Nachstuhl was enabled to free one of his hands to get a knife from his pocket and cut the cord that bound his feet. He then quickly released Mr. Dahl. When both doors were found locked, the clerks took to the roof.

VENERABLE JUDGE DIES OF OLD AGE

Coshocton, O., July 22.—Judge Richard M. Voorhees, seventy-seven, for three terms a member of the court of appeals in the Fifth judicial district, former Coshocton postmaster and prosecuting attorney, died at his home here of senility.

Sylvia and Sylvia.

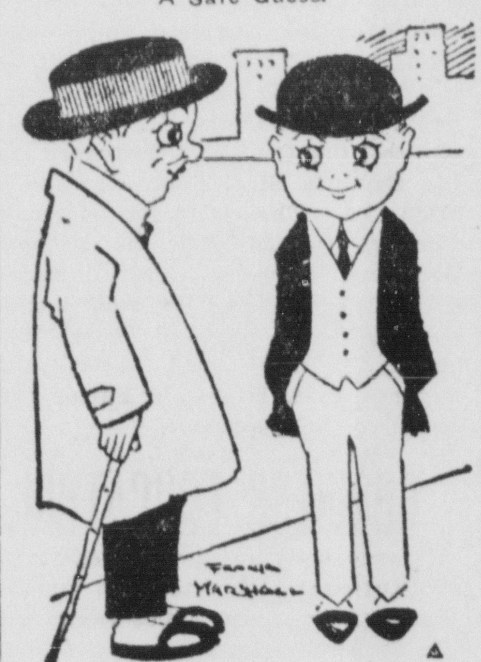

How beautiful Sylvia looked that morning. The clear Virginia sunlight played upon her and her brown hair seemed almost golden. Her great gray eyes, twin stars, looked straight into mine and I wondered what thoughts they hid. Nearer and nearer I drew to Sylvia, and I could feel her breath, sweet as a clover field in June, on my warm brow. We were alone.

A harsh voice rang out. "You want to be keeful o' that there Sylvia," it said, "'cause she kicks wus than any cow I ever milked."—Harvard Lampoon.

Uplift Stuff.

Don't deal in woe or tearfulness. Most folks have a supply Of wares like these, and cheerfulness Is what they want to buy. So deal in joy and truthfulness. Put on a smiling phiz And you'll preserve your youthfulness And do a lot of biz. —Kansas City Journal.

A Safe Guess.

"I saw Hickey going into the chiropodist's this morning." "There must be something serious on foot."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

An Interesting Talk.

In the days of Henry Clay, a Kentucky farmer sent a servant to Lexington with a note for the president of a certain bank. When the man returned he said to his master:

"I met Marse Henry Clay in the bank and had a conversation with him." "Indeed! And on what topic did you and Mr. Clay converse?" inquired the master with interest.

The darky removed his hat and made a sweeping bow. "Says Mr. Clay to me," "And another very low bow. 'And I the same to Mr. Clay.'"—Everybody's.

SUMMER PLAYERS AT CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y.

Wonderful Amateur Company Produces Best Plays With Settings of Burlap and Pasteboard.

Few stock companies have ever attracted as much attention as the amateur company of Chautauqua Players, which produce the best obtainable plays, both modern and classic, in the auditorium at Chautauqua, N. Y.

M. Benedict Papot, who is an instructor of languages at Chicago university, directs the company of twenty-five and, with the common combinations of burlap and pasteboard backgrounds, obtains effects that are pronounced marvelous by the best critics.

M. Papot has long been known as the "best amateur stage director in America" and has a wonderful capacity for contriving scenic effects. He is a hard worker and during the Christmas vacation took his company to New York city, where they produced their repertoire under the auspices of the House of Play Foundation, at St. Mark's church on the Bowery.

The New York Times gave them high praise, and their stay had to be prolonged to repeat several productions.

Everywhere there is now a great craze for amateur theatricals and for simplicity in stage effects. Chautauqua has taken the lead in this respect, and her players have won applause wherever they have gone.

Plano's "Sweet Lavender," Clyde Fitch's "Nathan Hale" and Grundy's "A Pair of Spectacles" will be given this season.

WOMEN INDORE CHAUTAUQUA

Strengthened and Encouraged by It, Declares Noted Club President.

"From Chautauqua, N. Y., I go back to the million women of the General Federated Women's Clubs strengthened and encouraged and tell them of that place where a woman can be reinvigorated and sent back home proud of that noblest profession—being a woman," said Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of this largest organization of women, in a recent interview.

"Women everywhere are taking a life interest in public affairs, civic and social administration. Their minds are open to gather facts. At Chautauqua they find the greatest preachers, the best teachers, famous writers and statesmen.

"The democratic air of comfort and informality brings speaker and audience closer together. The rolling hills, the pleasant walks, the bracing highland lake air strengthen the careworn. This combination makes every one glad they are alive, whether woman or man or child."

Summer Schools at Chautauqua, N. Y.

For many years registration in Chautauqua's Summer Schools has annual exceeded all previous records. The person is obviously in the excellent service which is given by the corps of university teachers and instructors along professional lines. Two thousand four hundred students and more are registered during July and August, 1914. The institution supplies 110 instructors, according to their regular catalogue. Ten college buildings and 300 separate courses are available. Nine hundred children are cared for in classes under their special department. These schools were organized in 1885 by President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago and have since set an example which has been the standard for nearly all the great summer schools of this country.

Twenty scholarships entitling the holders to Summer School privileges are given out annually to teachers in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Bishop Vincent's motto, "Education Ends Only With Life," has a real meaning for most people at Chautauqua. Men and women of all ages, one or two being in the eighties, are registered in the Summer Schools. All show a keen interest and a youthful enthusiasm.

CHAUTAUQUA.

What the Word Means and Where it Came From.

An Indian chief pulled a big muskellunge from the cool waters of a twenty mile lake and properly called it Chautauqua lake. Bishop Vincent and his coworker, Lewis Miller of Akron, O., sought a beautiful point on its shores for their convention of Sunday school teachers in 1874. And with Bishop Vincent's popular ideas for educating folks of middle age and teaching them how to enjoy life the place grew into an institution at Chautauqua, N. Y., that is now world famous.

The name is borne by five towns in Illinois, Kansas, New York, Texas and Washington, by many industries in western New York state, by apartment houses in New York city and by a sleeping car and a ferry on the Hudson. The name has been adopted by 1,000 popular imitations of the "original Chautauqua." The majority of these travel from place to place on a "circuit" and are managed by independent bureaus in the same way a circus is handled.

Chautauqua Institution has been incorporated on the spot made famous by Bishop John H. Vincent and is conducted as an educational and philanthropic enterprise by a board of trustees under the presidency of his son, George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota.

The world's greatest public forum and one of the world's largest summer schools are held here during the summer months of July and August.

The Straw Ride

Kiddies find Chautauqua Institution a veritable paradise. They are provided with day nurseries, kindergartens, playrooms and a big outdoor playground with sand piles and running water. Boys have a clubhouse and the girls do too. Straw rides and sunset picnics are a part of each day's program. Chautauqua, New York state, takes care of the whole family.

A CHILD'S PARADISE.

All Ages Cared For by Trained Attendants.

No summer resort in America plans more carefully for the children whether babies, half grown, or youngsters of twelve to eighteen, than does the big institution at Chautauqua, New York.

A great kindergarten nursery is provided for the little ones, with plenty of sunshine and fresh air. Here young women who are training themselves in the Summer School to become kindergarten teachers give them the best attention. Babies can be checked here like luggage, and the tired mother who wants to be free for the whole day can leave her baby in the morning and call for it at night, with the surety that it will be well fed and cared for.

A playground and elementary school take care of older children who must be kept busy at something, half study and half play. Then the great Playground, with its steep, rocky walls for fencing, and its big piles of pure white sand, and its running brook makes the best sort of a place for children to romp and paddle about in.

The older children have an out of doors gymnasium in which are the usual collection of see-saws, ladders, natural slides, climbing poles, chinning bars and merry-go-rounds. Over 900 children are registered in the Summer School classes which are graded for all ages, and where individual instruction can be given if needed.

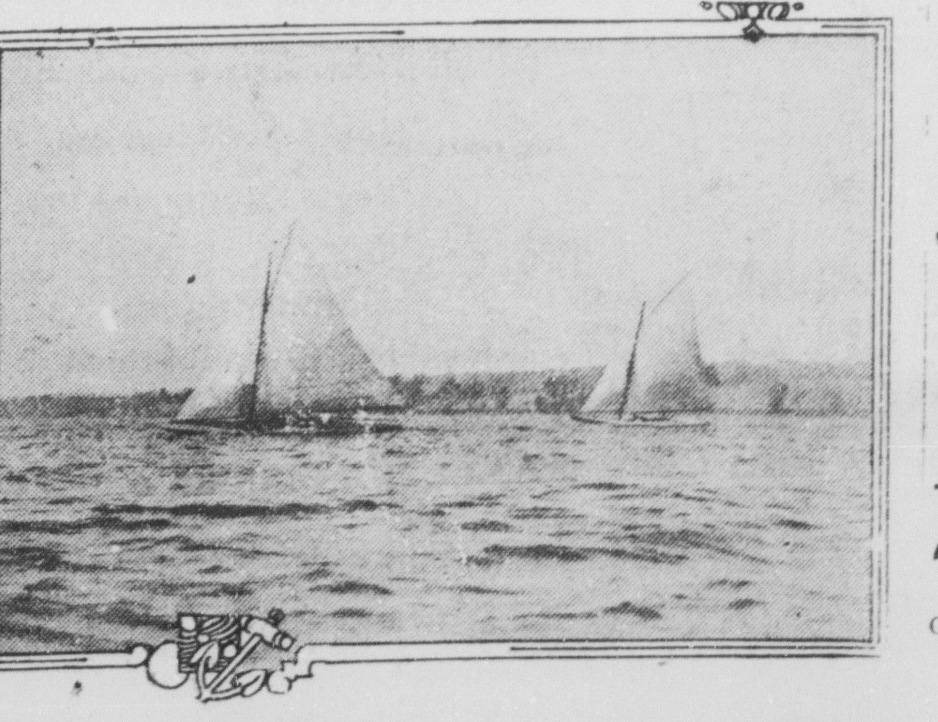

Studies of birds and animal life are emphasized, when squads of youngsters are taken for long walks over the hills or picnicking about the grounds. The Boy Scouts are most active in their program under a fine head master. And the Boys' Club House and Girls' Club House offer a fine place for gatherings, whether in the daytime or in the evening.

Few summer resorts cater to "family trade" as does this famous Chautauqua. Its object is to give happiness and health to every member of the family.

Chautauqua Assembly at Chautauqua, N. Y., with its "twenty thousand friendly folk" has become America's greatest summer center for popular music. A chorus of 500 voices under the direction of Arthur Hallam is trained each season. This, with the Russian Symphony Orchestra with its full personnel of seventy-five musicians under the direction of Modest Altschuler, will be the chief attraction this year. Music Festival Week comes Aug. 8-15 and a large and varied program will be given by this famous orchestra and the equally famous chorus, including such famous operas as "Aida," "The Messiah" and "Parsifal." Also a dozen other programs at which such soloists as Ernest Hutcheson, pianist; William Wade Hinshaw, celebrated baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York city, and Sol Marcossion will appear. Hundreds of people make an annual trip to Chautauqua during Music Week for this festival on account of the low price of admission and quality of the program.

It is now forty-eight years since the purchase of Alaska, but the people of the United States are only just beginning to get an inkling of its interior possibilities. From this time forward it is safe to predict a swifter development. The opening of the Panama canal puts Alaska within easier reach from our populous Atlantic front.

There are stores of coal and copper in the great stretches of workable mining land between the Alaska mountains and the sea. New railroad facilities will give still greater push to industrial expansion. Alaskan coal is even a more important asset than Alaskan gold. The more we know of Alaska the more we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the farsighted wisdom that induced its purchase nearly half a century ago. It was a great bargain at $7,200,000.

THE DOCTOR'S ORDERS.

With a Side Light on the State of Poor George's Health.

Mrs. Oldwed (calling on Mrs. Newlywed)—How nice and cozy you have it here in your flat, dearie. I can imagine how proud Mr. Newlywed must be to come home to a dinner prepared by your own hands.

Mrs. Newlywed (with a suspicion of a tear in her eyes)—By, my dear Mrs. Oldwed, do you know I am all broken up over poor George's health? He does not eat heartily like he did the first few days after we were married. Our doctor called last evening and said I must not be alarmed over George's lack of appetite. He even said it was best for a person never to dine unless one could eat with a relish. I ordered several kinds of sauces, some mustard, horseradish and also some relishes from the grocer today, and I do hope poor George will be able to enjoy his dinner tonight.—Judge.

Nothing Done.

Winter is too cold for work: Freezin' weather makes me shirk. Spring comes on an' finds me wishin' I could end my days a-fishin'. Then in summer, when it's hot, I say work can go to pot. Autumn days, so calm an' lazy, Sorter makes me kinder laxy. That's the way the seasons run, Seems I can't git nothin' done.

APPEALS MADE FOR GREAT SUMS

Every tenth man, woman and child in the state of Ohio will receive, within the current week, an envelope from the state headquarters of the Ohio Sunday School association at Columbus, an envelope for the collection of small change to be a part of the solicitation for the $100,000 sustaining fund that is now being raised. This county, like every other in the state, has been organized for the work. Fayette Sunday school workers are taking deep interest in the movement.

The 500,000 envelopes which have been sent out are only an incident in the campaign. Already every mail is bringing checks and money orders to Columbus from schools which want to be on the honor roll of early givers. Every individual who subscribes $1 or more will have his name inscribed in a great Book of Memory, which will be kept forever on file at the state headquarters.

Hints For Housekeepers.

In case you have guests and they engage in a heated political controversy, start up the phonograph.

Burning a large onion on a redhot shovel will do away with the odor of tobacco in your drawing room.

Don't throw your coffee grounds away. Dry them and keep them for the use of borrowing neighbors.

Letting the children run barefoot in summer will save money in shoes, but it makes the soap bill larger.—Chicago Herald.

A Cobwebby Tale.

A gallant named Cobb met a maiden named Webb. And straightway he sat down beside her; And quickly proposed in a manner so glib, That he caught her as soon as he spied.

—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Beau-Knot?

There once was a nice little shoe That mused, "Yes, 'tis strange, but 'tis true— When my mistress, so trim, Goes walking with him, I always untie—yes, I do!"

—New York Times.

The Exact Spot.

Lawyer—So you went out and waited for some time on the pavement. Now, did you strike the witness in the interim?

Defendant—No, I didn't. I pasted him in the jaw.—Baltimore American.

Welcome Speech.

When money talks it seems always To make a hit; At least nobody ever says "Shut up!" to it.

THEY SAW THE GHOST.

Easy to Recognize the Woman Who Had Haunted the Place.

"A certain lady and her family," says Sir Mountstuart Grant-Duff in his "Diary," "hired a place in Scotland which was haunted by the ghost of a woman, who was to be seen constantly at night wandering through the rooms and passages. When the family arrived the lady was much struck with the place and said, 'I must have been here before, for I know this place so well, only there ought to be two rooms here, and there is only one.'"

"The agent replied that within a few weeks the owner had caused a partition to be taken down and made the two rooms into one. Still the lady was puzzled at her knowledge of the place till she remembered that it was a house she used to go to in her dreams."

"Well, some time passed, and the agent was up at the house again, when the lady complained that one part of the contract had not been fulfilled. They had hired a house and a ghost for the summer, and no ghost had she seen."

"The agent replied: 'Of course not, because you, madam, are the ghost. We recognized you the moment we saw you.'"

If a man wishes to be treated with courtesy he should show courtesy to others.

Among the innovations brought on by the war is the establishment of a permanent passenger and freight line to bring Europe and America together by way of the Pacific ocean. Absence of German submarines in the Pacific is probably one of the reasons for the new Vancouver to Vladivostok route. It will take many days to reach Paris from Vancouver, but what is time in comparison with the danger and uncertainty of traversing the war zone?
